COORDINATING BAKER UNIVERSITY CREDIT FOR INTEL TEACHING THINKING WITH TECHNOLOGY PARTICIPANT TRAINING

For INTEL MT's offering the Intel Teaching Thinking with Technology Participant training to their teachers, 3 course options have been established for Graduate Credit through Baker University. Ideally, the MT Trainer should coordinate this directly with Baker University by contacting:

TO OFFER THESE APPROVED COURSES:

Identify which course will be offered (24, 32 or 40 hour version per associated course# below!)

Identify the dates of the course

Identify the instructor of record (this person must have a minimum Master's degree, and be willing to coordinate the paperwork, assign grades, and provide student grade information back to Baker University).

If you are an MT but are unable to fulfill these requirements, please contact Melinda Stanley at KSDE (mstanley@ksde.org).

COURSE OPTIONS:

In coordination with Baker University, 3 options for INTEL Teaching Thinking with Technology (TTwT) Participant courses have been created. The three options are:

Course #7866 (2 hours of Grad Credit)—associated with the 24 hour class requiring 5-10 additional hours

Course #7867 (3 hours of Grad Credit) –associated with the 32 hour class requiring 5-10 additional hours

Course #7868 (4 hours of Credit)—associated with the 40 hour class requiring 5-10 additional hours

There are 3 separate documents for potential students---a syllabus and registration form (identified by course #), and a Baker University "Grades" document that contains simple instructions on how students can get a copy of grades/transcripts.

PROCESSING REGISTRATIONS

Participants desiring graduate credit will receive a copy of the registration form, syllabus, and grades document.

Participants will complete a registration form, and provide payment required per the registration form (either payment information or a check).
The Course instructor should gather ALL Registration forms/payments and take a photocopy (be sure to blackout all confidential information).

The Course instructor should mail ALL registration forms/payments to the address printed on the Baker University registration form . ALL Registration forms should be mailed to Baker University in one envelope by the course instructor (ie. at the same time).

This process should be completed as quickly as possible.

ASSIGNING COURSE GRADES

At the end of the course, Baker University will email the Course Roster to the Instructor requesting final grade submissions. Instructor should submit final grades to Baker University as soon as possible.
