KANSAS COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM

Dr. Brad Neuenswander
Deputy Commissioner of Education
Division of Learning Services

In a 2015 tour of the state, Kansans said that school counseling played a significant role in the success of each student. Effective school counseling programs impact thousands of Kansas students each year. Such vital programs, an integral part of each school's educational program, must be designed to address the individual needs of students in their pursuit of successful school experiences.

The state of Kansas believes that every individual student needs to have the academic preparation, cognitive preparation, technical skills, employability skills and civic engagement to be successful in postsecondary education or the workforce without remediation. The school counselor plays a key role in that goal to have students leave our system prepared for success.

Research has demonstrated that in order to provide maximum program benefits that will positively affect all students, school counselors must implement comprehensive developmental school counseling programs. Additionally, and in light of, the Kansas Multi-Tier System of Supports (MTSS), the role of the school counselor is more important than ever. As MTSS becomes embedded in the fabric of every school, the counselor's ability to assist any student who is struggling, academically or behaviorally, is crucial to ensure every student achieve to high standards.

The Kansas Comprehensive School Counseling Program provides administrators and counselors with guidelines for implementation and accountability as they deliver the best possible services to students, parents/guardians and the community. Thank you for everything you do to ensure that the needs of every child in Kansas are met.

KANSAS COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM

Introduction

The Kansas Comprehensive School Counseling Program (KCSCP) is a state-based systematic framework for helping school counselors to design and implement comprehensive school counseling programs at a district or school level. School counselors must have a minimum of a master's degree from a school counseling program or concentration and the KSDE certification endorsement for School Counselor. School counselors deliver comprehensive school counseling programs at all levels of pre-K-12 education with a focus on improving individual student success and school climate. School counselors work with all students. The KCSCP is designed to help licensed school counselors and buildings/districts that do not have a licensed school counselor implement school counseling activities which are comprehensive in scope, preventative in design and developmental in nature. The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) National Model was used as a guide in developing the KCSCP. The Kansas State Department of Education (KSDE) promotes the description of the role of the School Counselor as stated by ASCA. See ASCA's Role of the School Counselor (Appendix).

Kansas State Board of Education Goals and Outcomes

Kansans are demanding higher standards in academic, social-emotional and technical skills, as well as employability and citizenship skills. There is a need to move away from a “one-size-fits-all” system that relies exclusively on state assessments. The Kansas State Board of Education in October 2015 announced a new vision for education in Kansas, giving direction for a more student-focused system and resources for individual success.

Kansas State Board of Education Mission:

To prepare Kansas students for lifelong success through rigorous, quality academic instruction, career training and character development according to each student’s gifts and talents.

Kansans Can Vision:

Kansas leads the world in the success of each student.

Definition of a successful Kansas high school graduate:

A successful Kansas high school graduate has:

- the academic preparation,
- cognitive preparation,
- technical skills,
- employability skills
- and civic engagement to be successful in postsecondary education, in the attainment of an industry recognized certification or in the workforce, without the need for remediation. (Approved by State Board in January 2016)

Outcomes for Measuring Progress:

- Social-emotional growth measured locally
- Kindergarten readiness
- Individual Plan of Study focused on career interest
- High school graduation
- Postsecondary success

Kansans Can School Redesign Project

In support of Kansas' vision for education, Kansas leads the world in the success of each student, KSDE launched the Kansans Can School Redesign Project in 2017. This project was a statewide initiative to redesign Kansas education for each student in every school by 2026 to ensure that every high school graduate is a successful one.

The Kansas State Board of Education defines a successful high school graduate as having, "...the academic preparation, cognitive preparation, technical skills, employability skills and civic engagement to be successful in postsecondary education, in the attainment of an industry recognized certification or in the workforce, without the need for remediation."

To attain this vision, schools and systems will focus on three key elements:

- Principles,
- Process,
- Conditions.

The four Design Principles ask schools and systems to implement systemic strategies around the following:

Student Success Skills

There is an integrated approach to develop social-emotional growth.

Community Partnerships

Partnerships are based on mutually beneficial relationships and collaboration.

Personalized Learning

There is an integrated approach to develop social-emotional growth.

Real-world Applications

There is an integrated approach to develop social-emotional growth.

In addition to addressing the 4 Design Principles, the Kansans Can Redesign Project also teaches a process. Redesign utilizes the process of Design Thinking in conjunction with The Four Disciplines of Execution (McChesney, Covey and Huling, 2012).

Lastly, redesign teaches that schools can not enact successful change without creating the proper conditions of shared leadership and a collaborative culture.

KANSAS COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL
COUNSELING PROGRAM

Kansas Requirement for School Counseling Services

All Kansas schools are required to provide school counseling services within the requirements set forth for approved accreditation.

Kansas Administrative Regulations (KAR) 91-31-32:

- a) Each school shall be assigned its accreditation status based upon the extent to which the school has met the performance and quality criteria established by the state board in this regulation.
- b) The performance criteria shall be as follows:
  - 9) programs and services to support student learning and growth at both the elementary and secondary levels, including the following:
    - B) counseling services;

Comprehensive in Scope

A comprehensive school counseling program is, theoretically, extensive and far-reaching in its objectives. The program should consider the overall needs of stakeholders and should be accountable to students first and foremost. A high-quality school counseling program rests on the three pillars or domains of school counseling: academic success, social-emotional development and academic success focusing on postsecondary/career readiness.

Preventative in Design

A high-quality comprehensive school counseling program provides for the majority (80% or more) of the school counselor's time to be spent on providing direct services to and indirect services on behalf of students. To meet this goal, a comprehensive school counseling program focuses on preemptive, schoolwide activities and services that give students the skills they might need to problem solve, use resources effectively and set goals so that they may be successful in school.

Developmental in Nature

A quality comprehensive school counseling program aims to ensure that students are able to meet standards for learning. Identified standards should be agreed upon by the school counseling team. While school counseling standards provide norms and benchmarks to show that students are proficient in the three domains of school counseling, school counselors still meet each student where he or she is in his or her specific stage of development. An overarching goal of any school counseling program is to help students grow into active and responsible members of society.

Using the KCSCP and ASCA templates and publications, school counselors are guided in developing comprehensive programs that are:

- Equitable.
- Developmentally appropriate.
- Integrated into the whole district or school.
- Accessible to all students.
- Informed by data.
- Measurable.
- Collaborative.
- Preventative.
- Accountable to the larger school community, families and individuals.
- Results oriented.
- Within the recommended scope of practice.
- Modifiable to fit a specific program.
- Based on student standards for learning.
- Supportive of overarching district goals and school specific missions.
- Professionally responsible.

Grow Your Own School Counselor Model

Kansas schools are currently facing a supply-demand challenge with fewer licensed school counselors than there are school buildings. KSDE encourages districts to consider a grow-your-own model by identifying a committed staff member who has the skill set necessary to become an effective school counselor and encourage this candidate to:

1. Enroll in an approved school counseling graduate program.
2. Refer to them as a “student services coordinator” etc. until they qualify for the provisional licensure after completing half of the approved graduate program
3. Establish a professional development plan with the candidate that familiarizes them with:
  - The Curricular Student Standards for School Counseling.<sup>2</sup>
  - The Comprehensive School Counseling Program (this document).
  - The Kansas Social-Emotional Character Development Standards.<sup>3</sup>
  - Measuring Social-Emotional Growth Locally<sup>4</sup>
  - The Flatt Act (suicidal ideation).
  - KSA 72-6147 (the Bullying Statute).
  - Mandated reporting.
  - KSDE also recommends establishing a mentoring program with either a licensed school counselor already in district, at a local education service center, local postsecondary institution and/or community mental health center until the candidate qualifies for the provisional license
  - Become familiar with the ASCA Legal Ethical Responsibilities.<sup>5</sup>
  - Have the candidate subscribe to the KSDE School Counseling list serv by contacting Kent Reed \(kreed@ksde.org\), KSDE School Counseling Consultant.

COUNSELING PROGRAM

Kansas Curricular Standards for School Counseling

The Kansas State Board of Education approved the revised standards in May 2015. This document provides a framework for student standards relative to the academic, social-emotional and career domains of the Comprehensive School Counseling Program. The Standards can be found at Curricular Student Standards for School Counseling.<sup>1</sup> KSDE staff have converted these standards into student competencies for school counseling, and this document is located in the Appendix.

Student Competencies

Kansans should be proud of everything accomplished while navigating unprecedented times and facing unique educational challenges in the response to COVID-19. A Continuous Learning Task Force commissioned by KSDE developed meaningful ways to help Kansas school districts successfully complete the 2019-2020 school year with social-emotional support and grace for all stakeholders among its top priorities.

The result of this was a collaboration among nearly 100 Kansas teachers, administrators, service centers, educational consultants, KSDE program directors and more. The goal was to review and analyze nearly 30 years of work among current Kansas Standards and, in 30 days, develop a competency-based model in pre-K-2, 3-5, 6-8 and 9-12 grade bands. This work has the potential to change the way we meet students' needs for the next 30 years and beyond by allowing students to demonstrate mastery of their learning in a variety of ways. In a competency-based model, students move through the curriculum in a personalized way at their own pace, which is also aligned to their individual plan of study. Competencies themselves are often broadly stated and may include groups of related standards within and between subject areas, resulting in an instructional learning environment that does not focus on teaching singular skills. This, in turn, provides for a variety of opportunities for students to demonstrate their learning in ways that are meaningful and relevant to them by exploring passions and asking their own questions as problem-solving prompts. To accomplish this, each student receives the differentiated support he or she needs to be successful and, after demonstrating mastery on his or her schedule, moves on to the next level. The Student Competencies for School Counseling document in the Appendix seeks to provide you and your leadership team with the foundation for planning and implementing a competency-based curriculum, instruction and assessment model for your school district, pre-K-12, that will focus on rigor, accountability and an unwavering commitment to personalizing learning for students.

Based upon ASCA and documented national and state standards, the Kansas Program is a model considered to be “best practice” for the profession. The term “school counseling program” means an articulated, sequential K-12 program that is comprehensive in scope, preventive in design, developmental in nature, driven by data and integral to a school district’s curricula and instructional program. The Kansas School Counseling Program (KCSCP) has been designed to reflect a comprehensive approach to program foundation, delivery, management and accountability. The KCSCP provides a system that encourages and promotes each student’s academic, career and social-emotional development in preparation for the challenges of the 21st century. The KSCCP will help lead administrators and professional school counselors toward a more comprehensive, data-driven and accountable school counseling program that will empower every Kansas student to be college-career ready.

A comprehensive school counseling program is an integral component of the school’s academic mission. Comprehensive school counseling programs, driven by student data and based on standards in academic, career and social-emotional development, promote and enhance the learning process for all students.

ASCA National Model Executive Summary

School counselors design and deliver school counseling programs that improve student outcomes. “The ASCA National Model: A Framework for School Counseling Programs” outlines the components of a school counseling program that is integral to the school’s academic mission and is created to have a significant positive impact on student achievement, attendance and discipline.

The ASCA National Model guides school counselors in the development of school counseling programs that:

- Are based on data-informed decision-making.
- Are delivered to all students systematically.
- Include a developmentally appropriate curriculum focused on the mindsets and behaviors all students need for postsecondary readiness and success.
- Close achievement and opportunity gaps.
- Result in improved student achievement, attendance and discipline.

Training and credentialing matters. School counselors are certified/licensed educators with a minimum of a master’s degree in school counseling, making them uniquely qualified to address all students’ academic, career and social-emotional development needs through the implementation of a school counseling program that promotes and enhances student success.

Ratios Matter

Research shows that appropriate student-to-school-counselor ratios have a significant effect on student attendance and lead to higher test scores. The ideal caseload is 250:1. The most recent data (2020-21) indicates that the Kansas ratio is 1:381, which is an improvement from 1:419 in 2019.

Explore the ASCA National Model (American School Counselor Association (ASCA) ) website to learn more about the ASCA National Model, its component parts and how developing a school counseling program based on this framework can improve student achievement.

ASCA School Counselor Professional Standards and Competencies

The ASCA School Counselor Professional Standards and Competencies<sup>11</sup> outline the mindsets and behaviors school counselors need to meet the rigorous demands of the school counseling profession and the needs of pre-K–12 students. These standards and competencies help ensure new and experienced school counselors are equipped to establish, maintain and enhance a school counseling program addressing academic achievement, career planning and social-emotional development. These standards and competencies can be used in a variety of ways including:

- School Counselors
  - Self-assess their own mindsets and behaviors.
  - Formulate an appropriate professional development plan.
- School Administrators
  - Guide the recruitment and selection of competent school counselors.
  - Develop or inform meaningful school counselor performance appraisal.
- School counselor education programs
  - Establish benchmarks for ensuring school counseling students graduate with the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to develop a school counseling program.

Organization of the ASCA School Counselor Professional Standards and Competencies

The ASCA School Counselor Professional Standards and Competencies are organized by mindset standards and behavior standards and competencies. The standards are broader topics that describe the knowledge, attitude and skills school counselors need to implement a school counseling program. The competencies are more specific and measurable indicators of the behavior standards.

Mindsets: The mindset standards include beliefs school counselors have about student achievement and success. Although it may be possible to measure these beliefs, the mindsets are more readily recognized through the behaviors a school counselor demonstrates as a result of the implementation of a school counseling program. Therefore, the mindset standards do not have correlating competencies.

Behaviors: The behavior standards include essential behaviors school counselors demonstrate through the implementation of a school counseling program including:

1. Professional foundation – The essential skills that are the basis of a school counselor’s professional orientation.
2. Direct and indirect student services – Interactions that are provided directly to students or indirectly for students in collaboration with families, teachers, administrators, other school staff and education stakeholders.
3. Planning and assessment – Activities necessary for the design, implementation and assessment of the school counseling program.

Each behavior standard has specific competencies that are measurable indicators of the broader standard. These competencies can be used to further define the behaviors necessary for the implementation of a school counseling program.

The mindsets and behaviors standards are found in the following chart and the behavior competencies are listed afterward.

MINDSETS

School counselors believe:

- M 1. Every student can learn and every student can succeed.
- M 2. Every student should have access to and opportunity for a high-quality education.
- M 3. Every student should graduate from high school prepared for postsecondary opportunities.
- M 4. Every student should have access to a school counseling program.
- M 5. Effective school counseling is a collaborative process involving school counselors, students, families, teachers, administrators, other school staff and education stakeholders.
- M 6. School counselors are leaders in the school, district, state and nation.
- M 7. School counseling programs promote and enhance student academic, career and social-emotional outcomes.

Data and School Counseling

Regarding data, Kansas professional school counselors are encouraged to:

- Be proficient in collecting, interpreting and analyzing data;
- Become aware of all the sources of data available; and
- Be able to show how intentional counseling interventions affect their students.

There are essentially three types of data the school counselors may collect:

1. Process data
2. Perception data
3. Outcome data

Process Data

What you did for whom.

- Evidence that the event occurred; how the activity was conducted
  - This would be what the counselor DID, not what the student got.

EXAMPLES:

- Counselor delivers three lessons on bullying to every class, K-4.
- High school counselor meets every student on caseload for enrollment.
- Five students participated in motivation group facilitated by counselor.

Perception Data

What do people think they know, believe or can do?

- Measures competency achieved, knowledge gained or attitudes/beliefs of students.
- Measures what students are perceived to have gained in knowledge.

EXAMPLES:

- After bullying lesson, 98% of students reported that they knew the signs of bullying, strategies to combat bullying and school consequences for bullying.
- 100% of motivation group felt that they would be able to do well for the upcoming quarter.

Outcome Data

Answers “So what?” and “Have we reached our outcome?”

- Hard data.
- Application data.
- Demonstrates the program has/has not positively impacted the student’s ability to utilize the knowledge, attitudes, skills to affect the behavior.
- Outcomes data can be:
  - Immediate (pre/post).

EXAMPLE:

- Before the bullying lessons, there were 50 cases of bullying; after the lessons, there were only 10 cases.
- Intermediate (quarter/semester/year).

EXAMPLE:

- 100% of the motivation group raised their quarter GPA.

- Long-range (showing impact over time, i.e. CORE data).

EXAMPLE:

- Students who had individual course advisement sessions with their counselor showed a 5% increase in graduation rate.
- Value of outcomes-based counseling:
  - Demonstrates impact over time of the program.
  - Is connected to standards.
  - Decisions are based on data-driven needs of the students, site, district.
  - Focus is on learning from the data, not being evaluated by the data.
    - Great coaching opportunities.
    - Peer consultation.
    - Teamwork
    - Great advocacy tool.
    - Bottom line ... it’s good for the students.

The ASCA National Model also references three types of data:

- Participation data
- Mindsets and Behavior data
- Outcome data

Academic Domain

The School Counselor and Academic Development, ASCA<sup>17</sup> (Adopted 2017)

ASCA Position

School counselors deliver programs that have an impact on student growth in three domain areas: academic development, career development and social-emotional development (ASCA, 2019). School counselors recognize students should demonstrate growth in these domains equally to be successful. School counselors understand these domains are not considered separate but are intertwined, each affecting the other (Schenck, Anctil and Smith, 2010, p. 16). Although this statement focuses on academic development, it is understood career development and social-emotional development need to be considered with equal diligence.

The Rationale

Recent educational initiatives (e.g., No Child Left Behind [NCLB]; Every Student Succeeds Act [ESSA]) have stressed academic achievement as a measure of school success. As a result, school counseling programs align their annual student outcome goals with that of the institution, emphasizing academic achievement. School counselors contribute to the educational and academic outcomes of the school by enhancing student engagement and performance (Carey and Harrington, 2010a; Carey and Harrington, 2010b) through designing, implementing and assessing school counseling programs (ASCA, 2019).

School counseling programs use data to understand student needs, provide school counseling classroom, group and closing-the-gap interventions and remove systemic barriers to ensure all students as early as preschool and kindergarten have an opportunity to develop academic goals at all grade levels reflecting their abilities and academic interests and can access appropriate rigorous, relevant coursework and experiences. Because of their unique position within a school and their unique training, school counselors can work with students facing mental health issues, family and social problems, as well as career exploration and course planning to make school relevant (Howe, 2009).

School counselors play a critical role in ensuring schools provide a safe, caring environment and that students have the necessary mindsets and behaviors to advance academic achievement outcomes. School counselors work collaboratively with stakeholders to ensure equity, access and academic success of all students (ASCA, 2019).

The School Counselor's Role

School counselors support students' academic success by:

- Leading development of a safe and caring school culture.
- Delivering a school counseling program based on data identifying student needs.
- Delivering information to students and teachers within the school counseling curriculum on best practices in mindsets and behaviors (i.e., learning strategies, self-management skills, social skills) and metacognition skills (McGuire, 2015) critical in academic success.
- Providing relevance to academic effort and educational pursuits by assisting in students' career planning and future career-related goals.
- Working with administration, teachers and other school staff to create a school environment encouraging academic success and striving to one's potential. (Stone and Clark, 2001)
- Working to remove barriers to access and provide students with the opportunity for academic challenge in the most rigorous coursework possible.
- Establishing data analysis methods to identify and target systemic barriers deterring equitable access.
- Providing opportunities for students to:
  - Enhance their self-efficacy beliefs and competence.
  - Develop attributional beliefs.
  - See value in tasks related to achievement.
- Develop mastery/learning goals.
- Develop autonomy.
- Relate to others. (Rowell and Hong, 2013)
- Working to establish student opportunities for academic remediation as needed.
- Emphasizing family-community-school relationships in addressing academic needs. (Brown, 1999)

Summary

Educational institutions are evaluated on student outcomes, especially academic achievement. School counselors working in this educational environment play a critical role in ensuring students have the academic development (in addition to the social-emotional and career development) knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to be successful. School counselors can assist schools in providing an environment conducive to and supportive of academic success.

Kansas Graduation Fact Sheet

Kansas Graduation Requirements 2020-2021

What are the minimum high school graduation requirements in Kansas?

Each local board of education must have a written policy specifying that students are eligible for graduation only upon completion of at least the following requirements:

- Four units of English language arts, which shall include reading, writing, literature, communication and grammar. The building administrator may waive up to one unit of this requirement if the administrator determines that a pupil can profit more by taking another subject.
- Three units of history and government, which shall include:
  - World history
  - United States history
  - United States government, including the Constitution of the United States; concepts of economics and geography.
- Three units of science, which shall include physical, biological and earth and space science concepts and which shall include at least one unit as a laboratory course.
- Three units of mathematics, including algebraic and geometric concepts.
- One unit of physical education, which shall include health, and which may include safety, first aid or physiology.
- One unit of fine arts, which may include art, music, dance, theatre, forensics and other similar studies selected by a local board of education.
- Six units of elective courses.

Can the local board of education increase the number of graduation requirements?

Any local board of education may increase the number of units of credit required for graduation.

Any additional requirements of the local board of education that increase the number of units of credit required for graduation apply to those students who enter the ninth grade in the school year following the effective date of the additional requirement.

Can the local board of education adopt different graduation requirements for certain students?

Districts are required to award diplomas to requesting students who have met the state minimum graduation requirements and were in custody of the Kansas Department of Corrections (KDOC) or the Kansas Department for Children and Families (KDCF) on or after their 14th birthday. For more information about these requirements, please see the Diploma for Students in Custody of KDOC and KDCF (SB 23) Fact Sheet on the Graduation webpage<sup>18</sup>.

Local boards of education may adopt a different number of graduation requirements (not lower than the state minimum) for adult learners whose four- and five-year cohorts have graduated or for students attending an alternative school or program. Most typically, diplomas are awarded to these students for successful completion of the state minimum graduation requirements.

Local boards of education can also adopt policy giving the superintendent and/or principal the discretion to waive local graduation requirements that are in excess of the state minimum for students on a case-by-case basis. Situations that would be appropriate to receive this discretion include, but are not limited to, students who experienced high mobility, teen pregnancy and long-term illness. KSDE does not support policies that automatically waive local graduation requirements for students with disabilities that are in excess of the state minimum.

Is a district allowed to waive the Physical Education (PE)/Health requirement?

The PE/Health requirement shall be waived if the school district is provided with either of the following:

- A statement by a licensed physician that a pupil is mentally or physically incapable of participating in a regular or modified physical education program; or
- A statement, signed by a lawful custodian of the pupil, indicating that the requirement is contrary to the religious teachings of the pupil.

Can a student earn high school credit for a course taken in eighth grade?

It is up to each local district whether an eighth-grade course will count as a high school credit. If high school credit is given, the eighth-grade course must be equivalent to or the same as a high school course.

Only grades for courses listed on the official high school transcript will count toward the Regents Qualified Admission GPA requirement.

Where can I find more information about Regents Qualified Admissions requirements?

The Kansas Board of Regents (KBOR) has information available on its website<sup>19</sup>.

KANSAS INDEPENDENT COLLEGE ASSOCIATION

The Kansas Independent Colleges Association \(KICA\) and Universities Guide<sup>22</sup> is published by KICA. KICA speaks for the value of Kansas' independent colleges and universities and seeks to strengthen those institutions through collaboration, governmental advocacy and public engagement aimed at supporting the ability to choose and afford an independent college education that fits their goals. These institutions include the oldest and newest nonproprietary universities in the state; enrollments as small as 300 and as large as 3,600; and campuses in urban environments, suburban settings, medium-sized towns and small communities. KICA, founded in 1976, is a 501(c)(4) not-for-profit Kansas corporation.

Career Domain

The purpose of the Career Domain of the Kansas School Counseling Model Standards is to guide school counseling programs to help students:

1. Understand the connection between school and the world of work and plan for and make a successful transition from school to postsecondary education and/or the world of work.

The Career Domain Standards are:

1. Standard 1: The student will acquire the skills to investigate the world of work in relation to knowledge of self and to make informed career decisions.
2. Standard 2: The student will employ strategies to achieve future career goals with success and satisfaction.
3. Standard 3: The student will understand the relationship between personal qualities, education, training and the world of work.

Kansas Career Development Process Model

With a workforce increasingly requiring more career technical skills and specialized training for jobs, the learning and labor landscape has come to a crossroads.

To assist more students to complete a postsecondary credential and be competitive in the labor market, it's critical to begin career exploration and planning earlier in a student's educational experience. In addition to beginning Career Awareness in elementary, Career Exploration in middle school and Career Preparation in high school, it is essential for students to apply the Career Development Process that will assist them throughout their life career journey.

The Kansas Career Development Process Model has three key components. Students participate in the Kansas Career Development Cycle with guidance and direction from counselors, career advisers/advocates, CTE teachers and other support staff members. They are exposed to and master the Kansas Can Competencies in their academic and CTE coursework. Students build their Social Emotional and Character Development across their educational experiences. The Kansas Career Development Process Model focuses on helping students to attain necessary skills in three focused areas represented by the three rings that comprise the Kansas Career Development Process.

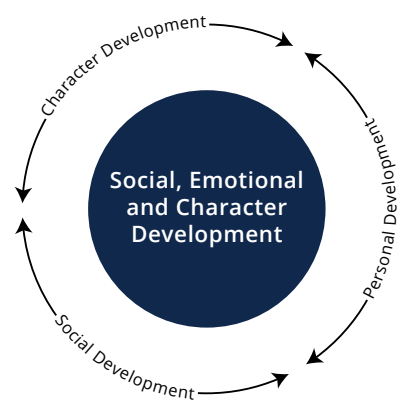

Kansas Career Development Cycle

Kansans Can Competencies

Social, Emotional and Character Development

Kansas Career Development Process Model

The Kansas Career Development Process Model is a comprehensive (K-12) model that provides structure for the IPS Framework developed by districts to deliver:

- Career development information and lessons.
- Career advisement.
- Work-based learning opportunities.
- Social-emotional learning.
- Family engagement.
- Connection to postsecondary opportunities.
- Business and industry partners.

Planning a districtwide program that supports all the elements of the Kansas Career Development Model is essential for students to successfully transition from school to work.

Kansas Career Development Cycle

Overview

The Kansas Career Development Cycle consists of four quadrants. Each quadrant links to three related components.

- Know Yourself: Students increase their skills and knowledge about who they are as an individual as they begin to build their “personal success identity.”

- Explore Options: Students explore the many career options available. Career exploration skills consists of identifying and analyzing various career options in terms of education, training experience and competencies needed.

- Make Choices: Students gain skills in career planning and management that focus on identifying goals with the best-fit, then creating an action plan (an Individual Plan of Study) to accomplish those goals.

- Take Action: With an action plan (Individual Plan of Study) students take steps to increase their knowledge and skills around their desired goal, market themselves and prepare for employment.

With a rapidly evolving labor market and dynamic shifts in high demand occupations in Kansas, it is essential that our youth have the skills and knowledge to navigate the career development process by translating what they know about themselves and options they have explored into an individualized plan that they can take action upon - the Individual Plan of Study.

Kansas Careers, Fields, Clusters and Pathways

Kansas utilizes a mapping infographic that aligns with the Work-Based Learning Continuum.

Career Awareness

Elementary School Level Career Development

Kansas Career Fields, Clusters and Pathways Infographic, Elementary School

The Kansas Career Fields infographic, shown above, identifies the seven career fields arrayed around a central focus on career success skills. Each petal represents one of seven career fields: Health, Design, Production and Repair, Agriculture, Business, Family and Consumer Sciences, Public Services and Media and Technology. The career success skills are grouped into the areas of Effective Relationships, Workplace Skills and Applied Knowledge.

This infographic serves as a starting point for discussions with elementary-level students and early career exploration. Early career awareness activities focus on identifying career readiness skills building basic awareness of career options and providing a means to explore careers. Most activities take place in the traditional classroom setting or in group settings like field trips.

Career Explorations

Middle School Level Career Development

Kansas Career Fields, Clusters and Pathways Infographic, Middle School

The Kansas Career Fields and Clusters infographic above breaks the seven career fields into career clusters. Those sixteen career cluster sit on the petals of the career fields. The center of the infographic represents employability skills - Career Success skills that include: Effective Relationships, Workplace Skills and Applied Knowledge. More information on the employability skills, along with a rubric, can be found on the KSDE website in the document titled: Measuring and Reflecting Student Learning: Work-Based Experience Portfolio and Employability Skills Rubric<sup>36</sup>.

The Kansas Career Fields and Clusters infographic is often used at the middle school level as students begin to explore careers as they relate to the 16 career cluster areas.

The 16 career clusters include:

- Health
- Architecture and Construction
- Engineering
- Manufacturing
- Transportation
- Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources
- Business
- Management and Administration
- Finance
- Marketing
- Human Services
- Hospitality and Tourism
- Law, Public Safety and Security
- Education and Training
- Government and Public Administration
- Information Technology
- Arts A/V Technology and Communication

It is the intent that all students at the middle level have the opportunity to explore all 16 career clusters.

Middle school career exploration focuses on developing career readiness skills, enhancing awareness of career options, providing connections with local businesses and preparing students with hand-on experiences. Examples of middle grades career exploration activities include job shadows, business tours, simulated work experiences and extracurricular activities like summer camps and career focused clubs.

Career Preparation

Secondary School Level Career Development

Kansas Career Fields, Clusters and Pathways Infographic, High School

The Kansas Pathways infographic adds another layer to the field and cluster model. Thirty-six programs of study provide students with deeper exploration and career development in more focused career paths. This model is used at the high school level as students refine their career preparation and deepen their knowledge and skills for employment and postsecondary opportunities. Students gain access to structured technical and practical skill applications in their chosen pathway. Some work-based opportunities for high school students are:

- Internships
- Entrepreneurship
- Clinical Experiences
- Service Learning Projects
- School-Based Enterprises
- Apprenticeships

Individual Plan of Study

Student

In January 2014, the Kansas State Department of Education went to the State Board of Education strongly recommending<sup>37</sup> that all districts implement Individual Plan of Study \(IPS\)<sup>38</sup> for students in grades 8 through 12 for the following reasons:

1. An IPS should be considered a “best practice” for districts. It can help all Kansas students obtain a suitable vision of their path toward college and career readiness and will address the gap between the percentage of students enrolling and the percentage of students earning credit during their first year of enrollment in two- and four-year postsecondary institutions.
2. The IPS is addressed as part of the “Career Awareness and Guidance” criteria in the current draft version of Kansas’ new accreditation model.
3. The Kansas State Department of Education can provide support to educators, as well as to vendors of student information systems, to ensure that individual plans of study are implemented in ways that will be cost-effective and not unreasonably taxing to students or educators.

As students navigate through high school and into career and college, it is imperative that students set educational goals and create a roadmap for success in high school and beyond. This roadmap, or IPS, includes development of a flexible career focus and an education plan that is clearly defined, rigorous and relevant to assure a successful and efficient transition to postsecondary education and/or the workforce.

The foundational elements of the IPS are the career interests identified by the student through an authentic career interest survey or assessment. A roadmap based on the student’s interests and talents can then be developed. Other parts of the IPS include graduation requirements, approved coursework for the student’s educational and career goals and developmentally appropriate, work-based learning experiences.

An IPS is developed cooperatively with the student and the student's counselor, teachers and family members. The plan is reviewed at least twice annually and is revised as needed.

All students, beginning in middle school, will develop an IPS based on their career interests. An IPS is both the product a student develops and a process the school implements to guide students in developing future plans.

There are four minimum components of a student's IPS:

- A graduated series of strength finders and career interest inventories to help students identify preference toward career clusters.
- Eighth- through 12th-grade course-builder function with course selections based on career interests.
- A general postsecondary plan (workforce, military, certification program, two- or four-year college).
- A portable electronic portfolio.

The vision requires that every middle and high school student in Kansas will have an IPS.

IPS FRAMEWORK

Planning a Districtwide Program

Essential components of a districtwide IPS Framework includes the following:

- Implementation team
- IPS framework is aligned with district reform efforts
- District framework
- Building level framework
- Grade-level framework

IMPLEMENTATION TEAM

The Implementation Team is in place with representatives from school counseling, special education, CTE, administration and teacher educators to facilitate the design and coordination of school/district IPS program.

IPS FRAMEWORK IS ALIGNED WITH DISTRICT REFORM EFFORTS

As districts develop and implement their IPS Framework, consideration should be given to the various improvement efforts embraced by the school district. These improvement efforts may include: Kansas Education Systems Accreditation (KESA), Redesign, school/district improvement goals, etc. This alignment reinforces the importance of the IPS Framework process and the various improvement efforts to ensure our students meet the goals set forth by the Kansas State Board of Education. A successful Kansas high school graduate has the academic preparation, cognitive preparation, technical skills, employability skills and civic engagement to be successful in postsecondary education, in the attainment of an industry recognized certification or in the workforce, without the need for remediation.

DISTRICT FRAMEWORK

A district framework (mapping) helps to identify key or overarching strands that are part of a district's vision/program. Career development district mapping reflects not only an IPS program but should identify key reform efforts a district has embraced (KESA, Redesign, etc.)

BUILDING FRAMEWORK

Much like the district framework, the building IPS Framework identifies key grade-level bands and themes. The building framework would include the career development scope and sequence for each grade level along with targeted lessons/activities around the Kansas Can Competencies and Social, Emotional and Character Development.

GRADE-LEVEL FRAMEWORK

The grade-level framework provides more specific information supporting the IPS Framework. For many, the grade level framework might be organized around the school calendar showing specific lessons/activities for each career development session at the identified grade-level.

Using the IPS Framework process, the IPS Implementation Team can then check for duplication, gaps in the delivery of career development, identify and embed family engagement activities and events (i.e. student-led conferences), work-based learning opportunities, etc.

Using the identified process, Career Advisers, Counselors and Educators are provided an IPS Framework (scope and sequence) that clearly articulates grade-level career development competencies.

Career Advising Model

A Framework for Practice

Advising is designed to aid student growth and development by creating a teaching-learning relationship that helps students manage their learning and build a successful educational plan (Darling and Woodside, 2007).

Career advising focuses on the informational nature of advising and the need to help students see the connection between educational decisions and careers (Gordon, 2006).

Through the career advising process, students are helped to connect self-awareness, including interests, values, abilities and learning preferences, to their academic choices and future career plans.

As students meet with advisers to discuss course selection and completion of academic programs, students are helped to discover:

- Who they are.
- The plan of study that is the best fit for them.
- The courses appropriate for the plan of study.
- How these choices correlate with their future career aspirations.

All students need career advising. However, few students recognize the importance of advising, and for many students, advising is synonymous with course selection. This type of prescriptive advising often lacks working relationships and does not provide a lasting connection between advisers and advisees.

Career advising integrated into academic advising helps students see:

- Where they are (Who Am I?).
- Where they want to go in the future (Where Am I Going?).
- How to get there (How Do I Get There?).

The Career Advising Process

The 3-I Process (expanded)

The steps of career advising are presented sequentially for ease of understanding. However, advisers may find that in working with some students the steps are not sequential and may move in and out of the steps based on individual student need.

INQUIRE

1. Establish rapport and build a working relationship with the student.
  - a. Location for session ... private conversation area.
  - b. Location is inviting.
  - c. Share a bit about yourself ... your vision board.
2. Determine the student's knowledge base and assess the student's career advising needs.
  - a. Intake sheet might be helpful ... what might this look like?
  - b. What are the critical questions? Use open-ended questions that require the students to engage in conversation.

INFORM

1. Explain and help the student understand the connections among self-awareness, educational choices, occupational information and academic and career planning.
  - a. Connecting the "Know Yourself" with the "Explore Options."
  - b. Assist students in seeing how self-awareness will help them explore careers that are congruent with their characteristics, thus leading to career options that are interesting and satisfying. (Gover Career Cruising MatchMaker and My Skills and Learning Styles Inventory). May want to consider a values inventory, etc.
2. Explain and help the student select interventions to assist in self, major and career exploration and career planning.
  - a. Refer students to additional resources. These may be found in the Counseling Office, Career Center, etc.
  - b. Advisers who are not knowledgeable regarding the interpretation of exploratory techniques may refer students to the Counseling Office or Career Center.
3. Set career advising goals with the student.
  - a. Goal setting ... helping students establish clear goals is critical.
  - b. Goals should address both academic decisions and decisions about future career plans.
  - c. Students should write their goals in the SMART goal format ... Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic and Timely.
  - d. Self-regulation (CCC Framework) should be incorporated into the advising/monitoring session.

INTEGRATE

1. Review and integrate gathered information (including interpretation of exploration results) and create a career plan (IPS) to achieve the student's goals.
  - a. One of the most important components of the career advising process is to help students turn "data into information" (Niles and Harris-Bowlsbey, 2009) and to make sense of gathered information.
  - b. When students are ready to make decisions regarding the steps they need to take to accomplish their goals, the actions decided on become part of their career plan (IPS).
  - c. A career plan (IPS) can help students be intentional in how they plan for the future.
2. Evaluate plans and accomplishments, determine any short- or long-term follow-up with the student and offer continuing support.
  - a. If an adviser has been effective in establishing rapport and providing information, resources and career planning, students will consider additional follow-up that might be recommended.
  - b. Students will evaluate the extent to which they have accomplished their goals set as part of the career advising process (Self-Regulation).

The chart below illustrates how the 3-I Process and Career Development Cycle align.

Work-Based Learning Definition, Continuum and Benefits

Definition

Work-Based Learning (WBL) includes a continuum of awareness, exploration and preparation that combines an individual’s career goals, structured learning and authentic work experiences implemented through a sustained partnership with Kansas business/industry. WBL activities with industry or community professionals culminate in a validation and measurement of acquired knowledge, skills and possible employment.

WBL Continuum

WBL in Kansas is organized along a continuum of experiences that offer students varying levels of exposure to career awareness, exploration and specific preparation activities. Before completing the Kansas WBL: Personalized Learning Plan (PLP), all stakeholders should determine which WBL experience the student will have.

Benefits of Work-based Learning Experiences

Benefits of Work-Based Learning (WBL) for Students, Business and Industry, Parents/Families, CTE Programs and Your School

WBL provides rich educational experiences for students, local business/industry, schools and the community to gain, provide and/or support real-world skills and expand connectivity across all levels with a common goal of supporting the next generation of the American workforce. Part of WBL is Career and Technical Education (CTE) as the strategy for providing the career preparation component of the WBL continuum.

In part of a state-recognized CTE program, students transition to student learners. Their expanded rigor is identified as an expansion of WBL efforts. Let's explore the benefits of WBL and CTE for each stakeholder.

Ten Benefits for Students

Students will benefit through:

1. Making connections between classroom learning and real-world scenarios.
2. Practicing and enhancing personal employability skills.
3. Observing exceptional professionals in action.
4. Removing the fear of practicing something new.
5. Understanding the need for postsecondary education, training and/or credentialing to enhance success within a career of choice.
6. Networking with future employers and/or community leaders.

In addition, the CTE student learner will benefit through:

7. Refining authentic technical skills under the eye of a trained CTE teacher.
8. Industry aligned safety training using equipment found on the job.
9. Expanded personal growth and leadership development through CTE aligned Career and Technical Student Organizations (CTSOs).
10. Arranged postsecondary articulation agreements which may provide free credit, entrance into juried programs, expansion of scholarships and recognition of CTE program completion while in high school.

Eight Benefits for Local Business and Industry

Local business and industry will benefit through:

1. Expanding a pool of trained workers.
2. Sharing education and training needed past high school graduation to enhance success in the field.
3. Promoting the importance of employability skills that reflects the specific needs of the identified career field.
4. Embracing the desire to give back to the community through school partnerships.

In addition, local business and industry will benefit from partnerships with CTE programs by:

5. Having a voice in workforce training.
6. Providing equipment and procedure processes to CTE programs so students can advance skill training before work experiences.
7. Ensuring CTE student learners arrive with documented safety training and practices in place.
8. Lowering retraining costs by ensuring foundational technical knowledge and skill experiences are aligned to the industry.

Five Benefits for Parents and Families

Parents and families of student learners will benefit through:

1. Expanded career awareness and exploration activities to enhance interest-based career selection before high school graduation.

In addition, parents and families will benefit from student learners in CTE programs by:

2. Gained confidence the educational experiences are aligned with careers needed today and in the future.
3. Stronger engagement to offer student learner support without having to know about the selected career field personally.
4. Applied experiences with foundational career training which has little or no cost to them.
5. Enhanced skill development through CTSO experiences leading to expanded scholarship opportunities, network expansion to include adults already in the field outside of the local community and enhanced success skills through leadership and personal growth.

Implementation of Work-Based Learning Strategies

For all Career preparation experiences, the following criteria must be met:

1. An electronic portfolio is required for all students enrolled in WBL experiences. An electronic portfolio is a summative assessment that demonstrates a student's mastery of course content. Student electronic portfolios should reflect career and technical course competencies and/or core course standards, employability and technical skills attained, and the student's long-term goals. Students are required to document their learning through the compilation of artifacts into the portfolio. Recommended portfolio components are found in the Measuring and Reflecting Student Learning<sup>36</sup> resource.
2. CTE experiences – The student must have been enrolled, and/or be currently enrolled, in a technical and/or application level course(s) (one credit) in the pathway related to the career experience. (Not enrolled solely in the introductory level course.) If the work experience is linked to a CTE course approved for extra funding (.5 funding) under the Pathways process, a maximum of 2.0 hours work-based experience will count toward the student's attendance, but only 1.0 hour work experience will count toward CTE (.5) weighted funding.
3. Non-CTE work-based learning experiences – course enrollment and attendance: In order to count a student's non-CTE-related work-based experience toward school attendance time, the work-based experience must directly relate to a course the student is currently enrolled in or has taken. This means the work-based learning experience has academic, employability skills and occupational job performance competencies that are related to a course the student is currently taking or has taken. State funding for non-CTE work-based experience shall be based on a one-to-two ratio and is limited to the time in the related class with a maximum of two hours work experience per related class. For example, one hour of classroom instruction to two hours of work experience (per year). The combination of classroom and work-based experience may not exceed 1.0 FTE for state funding purposes.
4. Teacher/coordinator of record for the experience shall meet with the student weekly to verify maintenance of records.
5. The teacher/coordinator shall visit the worksite, if applicable, at least once each nine weeks and maintain documentation of visits.
6. The work experience shall be aligned with a student's career goals and IPS.
7. For any internship/placement/clinical experiences, the experience should align with approved course codes.
8. Work-Based Learning Agreement: For each work-based learning experience (regardless if it is CTE related or non-CTE), the student must have an up-to-date learning agreement in place and on file at the school (it should be included as part of the student's Individual Plan of Study file/portfolio), as well as a copy at the workplace. The agreement must be signed by the student, the student's parent/guardian, the teacher of record, the school's work-based learning coordinator (if applicable), and the work-site supervisor or adult mentor. A suggested WBL agreement is shown starting on page 11 of KSDE's Kansas Work-Based Learning: Personalized Learning Plan Guidance Document.<sup>43</sup>
9. Please keep in mind that the work-based learning agreement is not simply having a liability agreement on file.
10. Work log/timesheets/attendance hours: For the duration of the student's work-based learning experience, a work log or timesheet must be maintained and regularly signed by the student's work-site supervisor or, only as appropriate, by the school's work-based learning coordinator. For KSDE audit purposes, the work log/timesheet must be made available at the time of audit and must include documentation of daily time worked by the student from the beginning of the school year through Oct. 4. Student work logs are required to be submitted weekly throughout the duration of WBL experiences.

Successful WBL strategies include:

- Applied, contextual learning.
- Integration of worksite instruction with technical and school-based instruction.
- Alignment of academic standards with industry and national skill standards.
- Meaningful learning experiences with well-defined tasks and outcomes.
- Links to continued employment and/or further education.

KANSAS COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM

Social-Emotional Domain

The School Counselor and Social-emotional Development<sup>48</sup> (Adopted 2017)

ASCA Position

School counselors implementing programs strive to have an impact on student growth in three domain areas: academic, career and social-emotional development (ASCA, 2019). School counselors recognize students should demonstrate growth in these domains equally to be successful. School counselors understand these domains are not considered separate but are intertwined, each affecting the other (Schenck, Anctil and Smith, 2010). Although this statement focuses on social-emotional development, it is understood academic and career development need to be considered with equal diligence.

The Rationale

School counselors serve as a first line of defense in identifying and addressing student social-emotional needs within the school setting. School counselors have unique training in helping students with social-emotional issues that may become barriers to academic success. Within the context of a school counseling program, school counselors develop school counseling curriculum, deliver small-group counseling and provide appraisal and advisement directed at improving students' social-emotional well-being.

The social-emotional domain is composed of standards to help students manage emotions and learn and apply interpersonal skills as early as preschool and kindergarten (ASCA, 2014). School counselors promote mindsets and behaviors in all grade levels that enhance the learning process and create a culture of college and career readiness for all students in the area of social-emotional development.

According to a meta-analysis by Durlak, Weissberg, Dymnicki, Taylor and Schellinger (2011), students who participated in social-emotional learning programs demonstrated significantly improved social-emotional skills, attitudes, behavior and academic performance that reflected an 11-percentile-point gain in academic achievement when compared with control groups. The American Enterprise Institute and the Brookings Institution (2015) concluded that social-emotional competencies are critically important for the long-term success of all students in today's economy.

The school counselor is key to identifying students' social-emotional needs (VanVelsor, 2009). Educational systems as a whole, including school counselors, should graduate students who are not only proficient in core academic subjects but demonstrate an ability to socially and emotionally practice healthy behaviors and behave respectfully when working with others from diverse backgrounds (ASCD, 2007).

School counselors play a role in creating an environment that produces engagement vital to students' social-emotional development. When students enter high school there is a 40–60% chance they will disengage from school (Blum and Libbey, 2004; Klem and Connell, 2004). School performance can be negatively affected when students demonstrate high-risk behaviors, such as substance abuse, sex, violence, depression and attempted suicide (Eaton et al., 2008). School counselors address the potential of disengagement by addressing students' social-emotional development.

The School Counselor's Role

School counselors play a critical role in supporting social-emotional development as they:

- Collaborate with classroom teachers to provide the school counseling curriculum to all students through direct instruction, team-teaching or providing lesson plans for learning activities or units in classrooms aimed at social-emotional development (ASCA, 2019).
- Understand the nature and range of human characteristics specific to child and adolescent development.
- Identify and employ appropriate appraisal methods for individual and group interventions that support K–12 students' social-emotional development.
- Know and utilize counseling theories to inform both direct and indirect services providing support to K–12 students' social-emotional development.
- Use assessment in the context of appropriate statistics and research methodology, follow-up assessment and measurement methods to implement appropriate program planning for social-emotional development.
- Select and implement technology in a school counseling program to facilitate K–12 students' social-emotional development.
- Serve as a referral source for students when social-emotional issues become too great to be dealt with solely by the school counselor, including crisis interventions.

Social-Emotional Character Development (SECD)

School counselors are committed to supporting students' social-emotional needs. As advocates for students, school counselors promote a positive environment that enhances students' ability to properly manage the social-emotional demands of their lives. School counselors use appropriate appraisal methods to promote a school environment designed to propel students toward positive mindsets and behaviors supporting social-emotional development through direct (e.g., classroom curriculum, group counseling and individual counseling) and indirect (e.g., collaborating or consulting with staff, families or communities) services.

The purpose of the Social, Emotional and Character Development Standards is to provide schools a framework for integrating social-emotional growth (SEG) with character development so that students will learn, practice and model essential personal life habits that contribute to academic, social-emotional and postsecondary success. It is about learning to be caring and civil, to make healthy decisions, to problem solve effectively, to value excellence, to be respectful and responsible, to be good citizens and to be empathetic and ethical individuals.

Why SECD?

- Aligns with school counseling standards.
- Aligns with Kansas Education Systems Accreditation (KESA).
- Aligns with the Rose Standards (K.S.A. 2013 Supp. 72-1127).
- Is one of the Kansas State Board of Education Outcomes.
- Research (Duckworth, Dweck, Durlak) confirms that SECD increases student achievement.

Measuring Social-Emotional Character Development

Social-emotional character development (SECD) is paramount to student learning and school improvement. When students are supported to enhance their social and emotional learning (SEL) skills, they also improve their academic and career outcomes.<sup>49</sup>

These skills may also be malleable and amenable to intervention<sup>50</sup> when the school culture has in place effective conditions for learning and development.

SECD

SECD are the Social Emotional Character Development standards for Kansas schools.

+ SEL

SEL is the process by which children and adults learn how to understand and manage emotions, develop care and concern for others, set and achieve positive goals, and make responsible decisions.

= SEG

Together SECD and SEL delivered in a healthy climate result in SEG, social-emotional growth.

Kansas schools have started to develop and track students' social and emotional learning as an indicator of student success within accountability models. In Kansas K-12 education, SECD is embedded into the Kansas Education Systems Accreditation (KESA) and Redesign. The information in this toolkit can help guide Kansas schools as they seek ways to measure that growth.

Kansas schools have started to develop and track students' social and emotional learning as an indicator of student success within accountability models. In Kansas K-12 education, SECD is embedded into the KESA and Redesign. The following information can help guide Kansas schools as they seek ways to measure that growth. SEL assessment requires a strengths-based approach: that is, assessment focuses on knowledge and use of skills that are actively taught and supported in the school setting. These SEG measures and the goal of assessment is distinct from screening for risk for mental and behavioral health needs.

A strengths-based approach proactively builds on the strengths and skills individuals possess to foster further development of competencies, just as educators do for any other academic content area. In parallel, the assessment of adult-driven SEL practices must be strengths based, focusing on methods for being proactive in holistically supporting young people's social, emotional and academic development.

Assessment of social and emotional competencies helps paint a fuller picture of youth's capabilities and needs, while assessment of adult SE competencies and practices, as well as school climate and culture, paint a fuller picture of the support youth are given to gain and express these competencies.

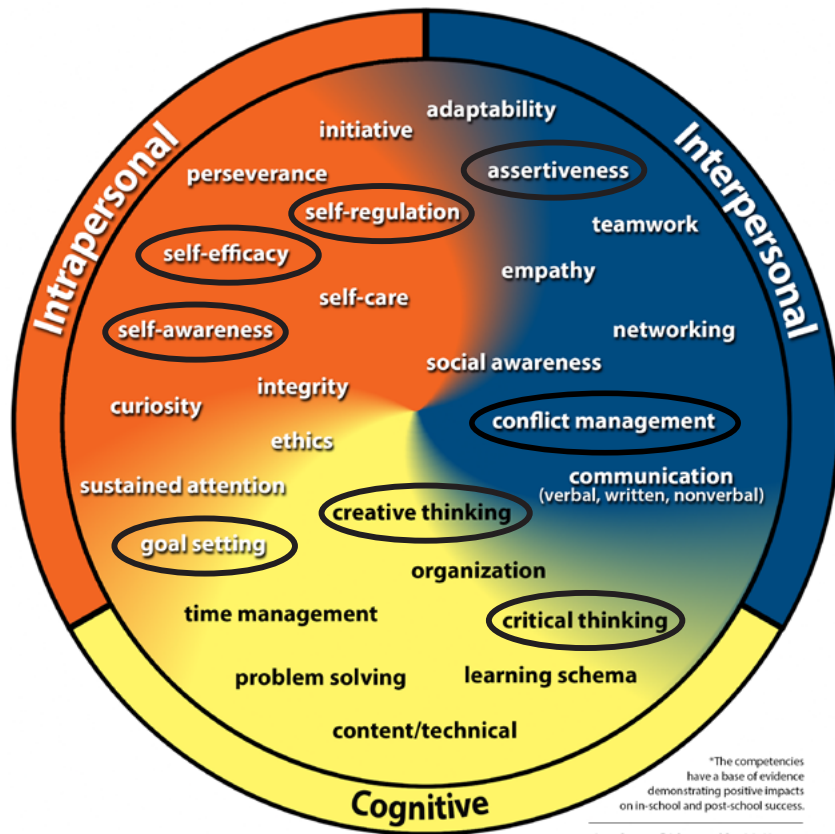

As widespread implementation of SEL practices gains traction, SEL data are increasingly available in multiple forms. Available data speak to culture and climate of settings, effective implementation of SEL programs and practices, and growth in individuals' development of social and emotional competencies.

Kansans Can Competencies

The College and Career Competency Wheel, researched and developed by Dr. Patricia Noonan and Dr. Amy Gaumer Erickson, both associate research professors at The University of Kansas, identified 26 research-based competencies that are critical for positive in-school and post-school outcomes. In their book, “The Skills that Matter,” Drs. Noonan and Gaumer Erickson share “There is a large and growing body of evidence that demonstrates how these competencies positively impact behavior and academic achievement, increase graduation rates and promote strong post-school outcomes”.

Kansas adopted the College and Career Competency Wheel as a component of the Kansas Career Development Process. The Kansans Can Competencies reflect three domains focused around intrapersonal, interpersonal and cognitive competencies. In collaboration with Dr. Noonan and Dr. Gaumer Erickson, eight of the competencies have been aligned with the Kansas Career Development Cycle. The Kansans Can Competency Framework<sup>51</sup> is a Kansas TASN project. For more information, visit the TASN site<sup>52</sup>.

Competency Alignment to the SECD Standards

The Kansas Can Competency Framework supports schools to systematically address the Kansas Social, Emotional and Character Development (SECD) Standards within existing courses. As stated in the SECD Standards:

Students who are ready for postsecondary success must identify and demonstrate well-developed social-emotional skills and identified individual and community core principles that assure academic, vocational and personal success.

The Framework empowers schools to integrate competency instruction and guided practice within core academic courses and reinforce social and emotional learning schoolwide. Numerous resources are available at www.cccframework.org to facilitate the development of instructional materials that address the core components of each competency. Professional learning is also available to interdisciplinary middle and high school teams. The table below identifies the competencies that directly align to each category of the SECD standards.

The School Counselor and Student Mental Health

(Adopted 2009, Revised 2015, 2020)

ASCA Position

School counselors recognize and respond to the need for mental health services that promote social-emotional wellness and development for all students. School counselors advocate for the mental health needs of all students by offering instruction that enhances awareness of mental health, appraisal and advisement addressing academic, career and social-emotional development; short-term counseling interventions; and referrals to community resources for long-term support.

The Rationale

Students' unmet mental health needs can be a significant obstacle to academic, career and social-emotional development and even compromise school safety. Even so, most students in need do not receive adequate mental health supports (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention [CDC], 2013). Research indicates 20% of students are in need of mental health services, yet only one out of five of these students receive the necessary services (Erford, 2019). Furthermore, students of color and those from families with low income are at greater risk for mental health needs but are even less likely to receive the appropriate services (Panigua, 2013) despite increased national attention to these inequities (Marrast, Himmelsteim and Woolhandler, 2016).

Of school-age children who receive any behavioral and/or mental health services, 70%–80% receive them at school (Atkins et al., 2010). Preventive school-based mental health and behavioral services are essential. Without planned intervention for students exhibiting early-warning signs, setbacks in academic, career and social-emotional development can result during later school years and even adulthood.

The ASCA Mindsets and Behaviors (ASCA, 2014) identify and prioritize the specific attitudes, knowledge and skills students should be able to demonstrate as a result of a school counseling program. School counselors use the standards to assess student growth and development, guide the development of strategies and activities and create a program that helps students achieve to their highest potential. This includes offering instruction that enhances awareness of mental health and short-term counseling interventions designed to promote positive mental health and to remove barriers to success.

The School Counselor's Role

School counselors focus their efforts on designing and implementing school counseling programs that promote academic, career and social-emotional success for all students. School counselors acknowledge they may be the only counseling professional available to students and their families. Thus, school counselors:

- Deliver instruction that:
  - Proactively enhances awareness of mental health.
  - Promotes positive, healthy behaviors.
  - Seeks to remove the stigma associated with mental health issues.
- Provide students with appraisal and advisement addressing their academic, career and social-emotional needs.
- Recognize mental health warning signs including:
  - Changes in school performance and attendance.
  - Mood changes.
  - Complaints of illness before school.
  - Increased disciplinary problems at school.
  - Problems at home or with the family situation (e.g., stress, trauma, divorce, substance abuse, exposure to poverty conditions, domestic violence).
  - Communication from teachers about problems at school.
  - Dealing with existing mental health concerns.
- Provide short-term counseling and crisis intervention focused on mental health or situational concerns, such as grief or difficult transitions.
- Provide referrals to school and community resources that treat mental health issues (suicidal ideation, violence, abuse and depression) with the intent of removing barriers to learning and helping the student return to the classroom.
- Educate teachers, administrators, families and community stakeholders about the mental health concerns of students, including recognition of the role environmental factors have in causing or exacerbating mental health issues and provide resources and information.
- Advocate, collaborate and coordinate with school and community stakeholders to meet the needs of the whole child, and to ensure students and their families have access to mental health services.
- Recognize and address barriers to accessing mental health services and the associated stigma, including cultural beliefs and linguistic impediments.
- Adhere to appropriate guidelines regarding confidentiality, the distinction between public and private information and consultation.
- Help identify and address students' mental health issues while working within the:
  - ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors
  - ASCA Professional Standards and Competencies for School Counselors
- National, state and local legislation, which guides school counselors' informed decision-making and standardizes professional practice to protect both the student and school counselor.
- Seek to continually update their professional knowledge regarding the students' social-emotional needs, including best practices in universal screening for mental health risk.
- Advocate for ethical use of valid and reliable universal screening instruments with concerns for cultural sensitivity and bias if state legislation or school board policy requires universal screening programs for mental health risk factors (ASCA, 2016).

Summary

Students' unmet mental health needs pose barriers to learning and development. Because of school counselors' training and position, they are uniquely qualified to provide instruction, appraisal and advisement and short-term counseling to students and referral services to students and their families. Although school counselors do not provide long-term mental health therapy in schools, they provide a school counseling program designed to meet the developmental needs of all students. As a component of this program, school counselors collaborate with other educators and community service providers to meet the needs of the whole child.

Multi-Tier System of Supports (MTSS) and School Counseling

A Multi-Tier System of Supports (MTSS) is a term used in Kansas to describe how schools go about providing supports for each child in their building to be successful and the processes and tools teachers use to make decisions.

Definition

MTSS is a coherent continuum of evidence-based, systemwide practices to support a rapid response to academic and behavioral needs, with frequent data-based monitoring for instructional decision-making to empower each Kansas student to achieve to high standards.

Focus

The focus of MTSS is system level change across the classroom, school, district and state.

Core Beliefs

- Every child learns and achieves to high standards.
- Learning includes academic and social competencies.
- Every member of the learning community continues to grow, learn and reflect.
- Every leader at all levels is responsible for every child.
- Change is intentional, coherent and dynamic.

To Achieve these Beliefs:

- Every child will be provided a rigorous and research-based curriculum.
- Every child will be provided effective and relentless teaching.
- Interventions will be provided at the earliest identification of need.
- Policy will be based on evidence-based practice.
- Every educator will continuously gain knowledge and develop expertise to build capacity and sustain effective practices.
- Resources will be intentionally designed and redesigned to match student needs.
- Every leader will be responsible for planning, implementing and evaluating.
- Academic and behavioral data will be used to inform instructional decisions.
- Educators, families and community members will be part of the fundamental practice of effective problem-solving and instructional decision making.
- An empowering culture will be enhanced/ developed that creates collective responsibility for student success.

Tiered Approach to School Counseling

School counseling programs are best implemented within a tiered approach:

Tier 1:

Researched-based curriculum intended for all students at the building level, such as schoolwide bullying prevention programs (i.e., 2nd Step, Steps to Respect), suicide prevention programs, service-learning projects (Lions Quest), character education programs (Medal of Honor, CHAMPS), check-in strategies (7 Habits of Happy Kids, Kansas Can Competencies Framework, College and Career Competencies Framework, 11 Principles of Character Education, Leading Through Action Core Traits, Maize Way, Zones of Regulation, Xello/Career Cruising), school families/advisory groups, etc.

Tier 2:

Targeted, small-group instruction for some, such as classroom lessons, restorative circles, school club activities, service learning projects, Girls on the Run, class meetings, family meetings, SADD, DBT in Schools, needs-based small groups, work-based learning groups, school families/advisory groups, etc.

Tier 3:

Intensive intervention for individual students, such as individual counseling sessions, Individual Plans of Study (IPS), work-based learning experiences (WBL), behavior plans, IEP's, Xello/Career Cruising, etc.

Tier 4:

Specialized intervention for referrals are made to an outside agency for specialized interventions beyond the scope of school counseling services available at school (i.e., mental health, juvenile justice services, disability services, etc.).

Implementation Guidelines for the Comprehensive School Counseling Program

The following guidelines have been provided to help Kansas schools implement the Kansas Comprehensive School Counseling Program.

1. A qualified professional school counselor, licensed by the State Board of Education, who works collaboratively with students, teachers, support staff members and administrators shall direct the program and provide services and instruction in support of the curricular goals of each attendance center.
  - a. The professional school counselor shall be the member of the attendance center instructional team with special expertise in identifying resources and technologies to support teaching and learning. The primary role of the professional school counselor is to support the academic, career and social-emotional missions of the school.
  - b. The professional school counselor and classroom teachers should collaborate to develop, teach and evaluate attendance center curricular goals with emphasis on the following:
    - i. Sequentially presented curriculum, programs and responsive services that facilitate and support the learning, growth and development of all students; and
    - ii. Attainment of students' competencies in the academic, career and social-emotional domains.
2. "School counseling program" means an articulated sequential kindergarten through 12th-grade program that is comprehensive in scope, preventive in design, developmental in nature, driven by data and integral to the USD's curricula and instructional program and that enhances and supports student learning and achievement. The program is implemented by a professional school counselor, appropriately licensed by the State Board of Education.
3. Licensed Professional School Counselor: The most effective means for implementing a comprehensive school counseling program is to have a licensed professional school counselor for every 250 students (ASCA recommendation). In Kansas the current ratio is 1:371.

The program's delivery system components shall include the following:

- a. Direct Services
    - i. Instruction;
    - ii. Appraisal and advisement;
    - iii. Counseling;
  - b. Indirect Services
    - i. Referral
    - ii. Consultation
    - iii. Collaboration
4. The program shall regularly be reviewed and revised and shall be designed to provide all of the following:
- a. Curriculum that is embedded throughout the USD's overall curriculum and systematically delivered by the professional school counselor in collaboration with instructional staff through classroom and group activities and that consists of structured lessons to help students achieve desired competencies and to provide all students with the knowledge and skills appropriate for their developmental levels;
  - b. Individual student planning through ongoing systemic activities designed to help students establish educational, career and social-emotional goals to develop future plans. For grades eight through 12, this includes an Individual Plan of Study (IPS); and
  - c. Responsive services through intervention and curriculum that meet students' immediate and future needs as occasioned by events and conditions in students' lives and that may require any of the following:
    - i. Individual or group counseling.
    - ii. Consultation with parents, teachers and other educators.
    - iii. Crisis response.
5. These services are available to all students and may be initiated by student, parent, teacher or counselor.

Access and Equity

Meeting the needs of each student

The purpose of education should be to provide every child with challenging and engaging educational opportunities in an equitable and inclusive environment so that they can achieve the knowledge and skills necessary to become successful adults. In order to ensure this, education needs to move from equality to equity, from providing the same resources and opportunities to all students to redistributing access and opportunity to them, specifically those students who are in special populations: special education, English language learners, homeless youth, youth in foster care, children of military personnel, economically disadvantaged youth and parenting youth. If equality means giving everyone the same resources, equity means giving each student access to the resources they need to learn and thrive.

To address individual needs of these students, a “one-size-fits-all” approach does not work. There are strategies that can be used to better meet the needs of special populations:

- Facilitating equitable access to rigorous content, participation, peer interaction and teacher attention.
- Respecting and encouraging cultural preferences, native languages and cultural perspectives (e.g., youth culture; the disability culture; students’ community and family backgrounds).
- Providing access to and/or extending grade-level content by adjusting content, lesson processes and projects to meet the diverse academic and linguistic needs of individual students.
- Comprehensive, individualized planning and course selection should be provided to each student. CTE is one way to address equity, while giving students the skills they need for the real-world of life and careers.

Family Engagement

An Individual Plan of Study (IPS) is a process that leads to a product (the plan) that assists students and their families in relating what students know about themselves and what options they have explored to create tentative career plans that will help guide and direct their career journey.

In a survey conducted by Farris State University, junior and senior high school students (78%) believe parents are primarily responsible for helping plan for a career or a job. This being said, it is essential that families are an active part of the IPS process and are provided with as much, if not more, career development and guidance information. This goes beyond a once-a-year, student-led conference.

KANSAS COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL COUNSELING PROGRAM: APPENDICES

APPENDIX A: School Counseling Student Competencies

Introduction

This document arranges student competencies from state Board approved standards as outlined in the Kansas Curricular Standards for School Counseling. In a competency-based model, students move through the curriculum in a personalized way at their own pace, which is also aligned to their IPS. Students' progress is advanced by demonstrating mastery when they are ready, not based on seat time or calendars. Competencies themselves are often broadly stated and may include groups of related standards within and between subject areas, resulting in an instructional learning environment that does not focus on teaching singular skills. This, in turn, provides for a variety of opportunities for students to demonstrate their learning in ways that are meaningful and relevant to them by exploring passions and asking their own questions as problem-solving prompts. To accomplish this, each student receives the differentiated support he or she needs to be successful and, after demonstrating mastery on his or her schedule, moves on to the next level. This resource and accompanying guidance seek to provide you and your leadership team with the foundation for planning and implementing a competency-based curriculum, instruction and assessment model for your school district, pre-K-12, that will focus on rigor, accountability and an unwavering commitment to personalizing learning for students.

The student competencies are presented in a "... a successful can ..." format.

For more information on competency-based learning, competencies by grade level and school counselor resources for implementation of the student competencies, see Navigating Change: Kansas' Guide to Learning and School Safety Operations<sup>79</sup> and Appendix F<sup>80</sup> in the Appendix document.

This document is organized along the following format:

1. Standard
2. Benchmark
3. Student competencies

or as they are referred to in the standards document, indicators. In the Kansas Curricular Standards for School Counseling the student indicators are the student competencies.

Guidance Counselor vs. School Counselor

Historically, the term “guidance counselor” was used to refer to counselors working in the schools. This term has evolved to “school counselor” as the scope of duties has changed and evolved. Although some schools still used the outdated “guidance counselor” term, the American School Counselor Association encourages the use of “school counselor” to more accurately reflect the role.

GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

- Reactive
- Services to some
- Impact measured via feelings and perceptions
- Ancillary role to school improvement process
- Work in isolation

SCHOOL COUNSELOR

- Proactive/data-driven
- Program for all
- Impact measured via achievement, attendance and behavior data
- Essential role in the school improvement process
- School counselors as school leaders
- Develop, manage and evaluate a comprehensive school counseling program

Excerpt from “School Counseling Principles: Remembering the Past, Shaping the Future: A History of School Counseling,” by Norman C. Gysbers, Ph.D.

“The terminology issue is still with us today. Is it guidance, counseling, guidance and counseling, or counseling and guidance? The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) has come down firmly on the side of the term school counseling program although the literature still reflects the usage of various combinations of terms. The terminology issue also is reflected in personnel titles. Again, ASCA has come down firmly on the title school counselor, although the public still uses the title guidance counselor, and some school districts use the title guidance dean, going back to a title used earlier.

The terminology issue is interesting from a historical perspective too. Remember the first term was vocational guidance, and then many modifiers were placed in front of the word guidance. In the 1930s guidance became a service within pupil personnel services with five services: information, assessment, counseling, placement and follow-up. Then the counseling service assumed prominence, so the common labels used were guidance and counseling. Information and assessment continued to be a part of guidance and counseling, but placement and follow-up became less important and have now almost disappeared as active parts of school counseling. Following ASCA’s lead, counseling became the label of choice as in school counseling programs. Guidance is still present but is used to label one of the delivery components of the program, namely, the guidance curriculum.”

ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors

(Adopted 1984; revised 1992, 1998, 2004 and 2010, 2016)

Preamble

The American School Counselor Association (ASCA) is a professional organization supporting school counselors, school counseling students/interns, school counseling program directors/supervisors and school counselor educators. School counselors have unique qualifications and skills to address preK–12 students’ academic, career and social/emotional development needs. These standards are the ethical responsibility of all school counseling professionals.

School counselors are advocates, leaders, collaborators and consultants who create systemic change by providing equitable educational access and success by connecting their school counseling programs to the district’s mission and improvement plans. School counselors demonstrate their belief that all students have the ability to learn by advocating for an education system that provides optimal learning environments for all students.

All students have the right to:

- Be respected, be treated with dignity and have access to a comprehensive school counseling program that advocates for and affirms all students from diverse populations including but not limited to: ethnic/racial identity, nationality, age, social class, economic status, abilities/disabilities, language, immigration status, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity/expression, family type, religious/spiritual identity, emancipated minors, wards of the state, homeless youth and incarcerated youth. School counselors as social-justice advocates support students from all backgrounds and circumstances and consult when their competence level requires additional support.
- Receive the information and support needed to move toward self-determination, self-development and affirmation within one’s group identities. Special care is given to improve overall educational outcomes for students who have been historically underserved in educational services.
- Receive critical, timely information on college, career and postsecondary options and understand the full magnitude and meaning of how college and career readiness can have an impact on their educational choices and future opportunities.
- Privacy that should be honored to the greatest extent possible, while balancing other competing interests (e.g., best interests of students, safety of others, parental rights) and adhering to laws, policies and ethical standards pertaining to confidentiality and disclosure in the school setting.
- A safe school environment promoting autonomy and justice and free from abuse, bullying, harassment and other forms of violence.

PURPOSE

In this document, ASCA specifies the obligation to the principles of ethical behavior necessary to maintain the high standards of integrity, leadership and professionalism. The ASCA Ethical Standards for School Counselors were developed in consultation with state school counseling associations, school counselor educators, school counseling state and district leaders and school counselors across the nation to clarify the norms, values and beliefs of the profession.

The purpose of this document is to:

- Serve as a guide for the ethical practices of all school counselors, supervisors/directors of school counseling programs and school counselor educators regardless of level, area, population served or membership in this professional association.
- Provide support and direction for self-assessment, peer consultation and evaluations regarding school counselors’ responsibilities to students, parents/guardians, colleagues and professional associates, schools district employees, communities and the school counseling profession.
- Inform all stakeholders, including students, parents/guardians, teachers, administrators, community members and courts of justice of best ethical practices, values and expected behaviors of the school counseling professional.

A. RESPONSIBILITY TO STUDENTS

A.1. Supporting Student Development

School counselors:

- a. Have a primary obligation to the students, who are to be treated with dignity and respect as unique individuals.
- b. Aim to provide counseling to students in a brief context and support students and families/guardians in obtaining outside services if the student needs long-term clinical counseling.
- c. Do not diagnose but remain acutely aware of how a student’s diagnosis can potentially affect the student’s academic success.
- d. Acknowledge the vital role of parents/guardians and families.
- e. Are concerned with students’ academic, career and social/emotional needs and encourage each student’s maximum development.
- f. Respect students’ and families’ values, beliefs, sexual orientation, gender identification/expression and cultural background and exercise great care to avoid imposing personal beliefs or values rooted in one’s religion, culture or ethnicity.

- g. Are knowledgeable of laws, regulations and policies affecting students and families and strive to protect and inform students and families regarding their rights.
- h. Provide effective, responsive interventions to address student needs.
- i. Consider the involvement of support networks, wraparound services and educational teams needed to best serve students.
- j. Maintain appropriate boundaries and are aware that any sexual or romantic relationship with students whether legal or illegal in the state of practice is considered a grievous breach of ethics and is prohibited regardless of a student's age. This prohibition applies to both in-person and electronic interactions and relationships.

A.2. Confidentiality

School counselors:

- a. Promote awareness of school counselors' ethical standards and legal mandates regarding confidentiality and the appropriate rationale and procedures for disclosure of student data and information to school staff.
- b. Inform students of the purposes, goals, techniques and rules of procedure under which they may receive counseling. Disclosure includes informed consent and clarification of the limits of confidentiality. Informed consent requires competence, voluntariness and knowledge on the part of students to understand the limits of confidentiality and, therefore, can be difficult to obtain from students of certain developmental levels, English-language learners and special-needs populations. If the student is able to give assent/consent before school counselors share confidential information, school counselors attempt to gain the student's assent/consent.
- c. Are aware that even though attempts are made to obtain informed consent, it is not always possible. When needed, school counselors make counseling decisions on students' behalf that promote students' welfare.
- d. Explain the limits of confidentiality in developmentally appropriate terms through multiple methods such as student handbooks, school counselor department websites, school counseling brochures, classroom lessons and/or verbal notification to individual students.
- e. Keep information confidential unless legal requirements demand that confidential information be revealed or a breach is required to prevent serious and foreseeable harm to the student. Serious and foreseeable harm is different for each minor in schools and is determined by students' developmental and chronological age, the setting, parental rights and the nature of the harm. School counselors consult with appropriate professionals when in doubt as to the validity of an exception.
- f. Recognize their primary ethical obligation for confidentiality is to the students but balance that obligation with an understanding of parents'/guardians' legal and inherent rights to be the guiding voice in their children's lives. School counselors understand the need to balance students' ethical rights to make choices, their capacity to give consent or assent, and parental or familial legal rights and responsibilities to make decisions on their child's behalf.
- g. Promote the autonomy of students to the extent possible and use the most appropriate and least intrusive method to breach confidentiality, if such action is warranted. The child's developmental age and the circumstances requiring the breach are considered, and as appropriate, students are engaged in a discussion about the method and timing of the breach. Consultation with peers and/or supervision is recommended.
- h. In absence of state legislation expressly forbidding disclosure, consider the ethical responsibility to provide information to an identified third party who, by his/her relationship with the student, is at a high risk of contracting a disease that is commonly known to be communicable and fatal. Disclosure requires satisfaction of all of the following conditions:
  - 1) Student identifies partner, or the partner is highly identifiable
  - 2) School counselor recommends the student notify partner and refrain from further high-risk behavior
  - 3) Student refuses
  - 4) School counselor informs the student of the intent to notify the partner
  - 5) School counselor seeks legal consultation from the school district's legal representative in writing as to the legalities of informing the partner
- i. Request of the court that disclosure not be required when the school counselor's testimony or case notes are subpoenaed if the release of confidential information may potentially harm a student or the counseling relationship.
- j. Protect the confidentiality of students' records and release personal data in accordance with prescribed federal and state laws and school board policies.
- k. Recognize the vulnerability of confidentiality in electronic communications and only transmit student information electronically in a way that follows currently accepted security standards and meets federal, state and local laws and board policy.
- l. Convey a student's highly sensitive information (e.g., a student's suicidal ideation) through personal contact such as a phone call or visit and not less-secure means such as a notation in the educational record or an e-mail. Adhere to state, federal and school board policy when conveying sensitive information.
- m. Advocate for appropriate safeguards and protocols so highly sensitive student information is not disclosed accidentally to individuals who do not have a need to know such information. Best practice suggests a very limited number of educators would have access to highly sensitive information on a need-to-know basis.
- n. Advocate with appropriate school officials for acceptable encryption standards to be utilized for stored data and currently acceptable algorithms to be utilized for data in transit.
- o. Avoid using software programs without the technological capabilities to protect student information based upon currently acceptable security standards and the law.

A.3. Comprehensive Data-Informed Program

School counselors:

- a. Collaborate with administration, teachers, staff and decision makers around school-improvement goals.
- b. Provide students with a comprehensive school counseling program that ensures equitable academic, career and social/emotional development opportunities for all students.
- c. Review school and student data to assess needs including, but not limited to, data on disparities that may exist related to gender, race, ethnicity, socio-economic status and/or other relevant classifications.
- d. Use data to determine needed interventions, which are then delivered to help close the information, attainment, achievement and opportunity gaps.
- e. Collect participation, Mindsets & Behaviors and outcome data and analyze the data to determine the progress and effectiveness of the school counseling program. School counselors ensure the school counseling annual student outcome goals and action plans are aligned with district's school improvement goals.
- f. Use data-collection tools adhering to confidentiality standards as expressed in A.2.
- g. Share data outcomes with stakeholders.

A.4. Academic, Career and Social/Emotional Plans

School counselors:

- a. Collaborate with administration, teachers, staff and decision makers to create a culture of postsecondary readiness
- b. Provide and advocate for individual students' preK–postsecondary college and career awareness, exploration and postsecondary planning and decision making, which supports the students' right to choose from the wide array of options when students complete secondary education.
- c. Identify gaps in college and career access and the implications of such data for addressing both intentional and unintentional biases related to college and career counseling.
- d. Provide opportunities for all students to develop the mindsets and behaviors necessary to learn work-related skills, resilience, perseverance, an understanding of lifelong learning as a part of long-term career success, a positive attitude toward learning and a strong work ethic.

A.5. Dual Relationships and Managing Boundaries

School counselors:

- a. Avoid dual relationships that might impair their objectivity and increase the risk of harm to students (e.g., counseling one's family members or the children of close friends or associates). If a dual relationship is unavoidable, the school counselor is responsible for taking action to eliminate or reduce the potential for harm to the student through use of safeguards, which might include informed consent, consultation, supervision and documentation.

- b. Establish and maintain appropriate professional relationships with students at all times. School counselors consider the risks and benefits of extending current school counseling relationships beyond conventional parameters, such as attending a student's distant athletic competition. In extending these boundaries, school counselors take appropriate professional precautions such as informed consent, consultation and supervision. School counselors document the nature of interactions that extend beyond conventional parameters, including the rationale for the interaction, the potential benefit and the possible positive and negative consequences for the student and school counselor.
- c. Avoid dual relationships beyond the professional level with school personnel, parents/guardians and students' other family members when these relationships might infringe on the integrity of the school counselor/student relationship. Inappropriate dual relationships include, but are not limited to, providing direct discipline, teaching courses that involve grading students and/or accepting administrative duties in the absence of an administrator.
- d. Do not use personal social media, personal e-mail accounts or personal texts to interact with students unless specifically encouraged and sanctioned by the school district. School counselors adhere to professional boundaries and legal, ethical and school district guidelines when using technology with students, parents/guardians or school staff. The technology utilized, including, but not limited to, social networking sites or apps, should be endorsed by the school district and used for professional communication and the distribution of vital information.

A.6. Appropriate Referrals and Advocacy

School counselors:

- a. Collaborate with all relevant stakeholders, including students, educators and parents/guardians when student assistance is needed, including the identification of early warning signs of student distress.
- b. Provide a list of resources for outside agencies and resources in their community to student(s) and parents/guardians when students need or request additional support. School counselors provide multiple referral options or the district's vetted list and are careful not to indicate an endorsement or preference for one counselor or practice. School counselors encourage parents to interview outside professionals to make a personal decision regarding the best source of assistance for their student.
- c. Connect students with services provided through the local school district and community agencies and remain aware of state laws and local district policies related to students with special needs, including limits to confidentiality and notification to authorities as appropriate.
- d. Develop a plan for the transitioning of primary counseling services with minimal interruption of services. Students retain the right for the referred services to be done in coordination with the school counselor or to discontinue counseling services with the school counselor while maintaining an appropriate relationship that may include providing other school support services.
- e. Refrain from referring students based solely on the school counselor's personal beliefs or values rooted in one's religion, culture, ethnicity or personal worldview. School counselors maintain the highest respect for student diversity. School counselors should pursue additional training and supervision in areas where they are at risk of imposing their values on students, especially when the school counselor's values are discriminatory in nature. School counselors do not impose their values on students and/or families when making referrals to outside resources for student and/or family support.

f. Attempt to establish a collaborative relationship with outside service providers to best serve students. Request a release of information signed by the student and/or parents/guardians before attempting to collaborate with the student's external provider.

g. Provide internal and external service providers with accurate, objective, meaningful data necessary to adequately assess, counsel and assist the student.

h. Ensure there is not a conflict of interest in providing referral resources. School counselors do not refer or accept a referral to counsel a student from their school if they also work in a private counseling practice.

A.7. Group Work

School counselors:

- a. Facilitate short-term groups to address students' academic, career and/or social/emotional issues.
- b. Inform parent/guardian(s) of student participation in a small group.
- c. Screen students for group membership.
- d. Use data to measure member needs to establish well-defined expectations of group members.
- e. Communicate the aspiration of confidentiality as a group norm, while recognizing and working from the protective posture that confidentiality for minors in schools cannot be guaranteed.
- f. Select topics for groups with the clear understanding that some topics are not suitable for groups in schools and accordingly take precautions to protect members from harm as a result of interactions with the group.
- g. Facilitate groups from the framework of evidence-based or research-based practices.
- h. Practice within their competence level and develop professional competence through training and supervision.
- i. Measure the outcomes of group participation (participation, Mindsets & Behaviors and outcome data).
- j. Provide necessary follow up with group members.

A.8. Student Peer-Support Program

School counselors:

- a. Safeguard the welfare of students participating in peer-to-peer programs under their direction.
- b. Supervise students engaged in peer helping, mediation and other similar peer-support groups. School counselors are responsible for appropriate skill development for students serving as peer support in school counseling programs. School counselors continuously monitor students who are giving peer support and reinforce the confidential nature of their work. School counselors inform peer-support students about the parameters of when students need to report information to responsible adults.

A.9. Serious and Foreseeable Harm to Self and Others

School counselors:

- a. Inform parents/guardians and/or appropriate authorities when a student poses a serious and foreseeable risk of harm to self or others. When feasible, this is to be done after careful deliberation and consultation with other appropriate professionals. School counselors inform students of the school counselor's legal and ethical obligations to report the concern to the appropriate authorities unless it is appropriate to withhold this information to protect the student (e.g. student might run away if he/she knows parents are being called). The consequence of the risk of not giving parents/guardians a chance to intervene on behalf of their child is too great. Even if the danger appears relatively remote, parents should be notified.
- b. Use risk assessments with caution. If risk assessments are used by the school counselor, an intervention plan should be developed and in place prior to this practice. When reporting risk-assessment results to parents, school counselors do not negate the risk of harm even if the assessment reveals a low risk as students may minimize risk to avoid further scrutiny and/or parental notification. School counselors report risk assessment results to parents to underscore the need to act on behalf of a child at risk; this is not intended to assure parents their child isn't at risk, which is something a school counselor cannot know with certainty.
- c. Do not release a student who is a danger to self or others until the student has proper and necessary support. If parents will not provide proper support, the school counselor takes necessary steps to underscore to parents/guardians the necessity to seek help and at times may include a report to child protective services.
- d. Report to parents/guardians and/or appropriate authorities when students disclose a perpetrated or a perceived threat to their physical or mental well-being. This threat may include, but is not limited to, physical abuse, sexual abuse, neglect, dating violence, bullying or sexual harassment. The school counselor follows applicable federal, state and local laws and school district policy.

A.10. Underserved and At-Risk Populations

School counselors:

- a. Strive to contribute to a safe, respectful, nondiscriminatory school environment in which all members of the school community demonstrate respect and civility.
- b. Advocate for and collaborate with students to ensure students remain safe at home and at school. A high standard of care includes determining what information is shared with parents/guardians and when information creates an unsafe environment for students.
- c. Identify resources needed to optimize education.

- d. Collaborate with parents/guardians, when appropriate, to establish communication and to ensure students' needs are met.
- e. Understand students have the right to be treated in a manner consistent with their gender identity and to be free from any form of discipline, harassment or discrimination based on their gender identity or gender expression.
- f. Advocate for the equal right and access to free, appropriate public education for all youth, in which students are not stigmatized or isolated based on their housing status, disability, foster care, special education status, mental health or any other exceptionality or special need.
- g. Recognize the strengths of students with disabilities as well as their challenges and provide best practices and current research in supporting their academic, career and social/emotional needs.

A.11. Bullying, Harassment and Child Abuse

School counselors:

- a. Report to the administration all incidents of bullying, dating violence and sexual harassment as most fall under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 or other federal and state laws as being illegal and require administrator interventions. School counselors provide services to victims and perpetrator as appropriate, which may include a safety plan and reasonable accommodations such as schedule change, but school counselors defer to administration for all discipline issues for this or any other federal, state or school board violation.
- b. Report suspected cases of child abuse and neglect to the proper authorities and take reasonable precautions to protect the privacy of the student for whom abuse or neglect is suspected when alerting the proper authorities.
- c. Are knowledgeable about current state laws and their school system's procedures for reporting child abuse and neglect and methods to advocate for students' physical and emotional safety following abuse/neglect reports.
- d. Develop and maintain the expertise to recognize the signs and indicators of abuse and neglect. Encourage training to enable students and staff to have the knowledge and skills needed to recognize the signs of abuse and neglect and to whom they should report suspected abuse or neglect.
- e. Guide and assist students who have experienced abuse and neglect by providing appropriate services.

A.12. Student Records

School counselors:

- a. Abide by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), which defines who has access to students' educational records and allows parents the right to review and challenge perceived inaccuracies in their child's records.
- b. Advocate for the ethical use of student data and records and inform administration of inappropriate or harmful practices.
- c. Recognize the difficulty in meeting the criteria of sole-possession records.

d. Recognize that sole-possession records and case notes can be subpoenaed unless there is a specific state statute for privileged communication expressly protecting student/school counselor communication.

e. Recognize that electronic communications with school officials regarding individual students, even without using student names, are likely to create student records that must be addressed in accordance with FERPA and state laws.

f. Establish a reasonable timeline for purging sole-possession records or case notes. Suggested guidelines include shredding paper sole-possession records or deleting electronic sole-possession records when a student transitions to the next level, transfers to another school or graduates. ## DIRECTIONS FOR USE-OF-TIME CALCULATOR:

1. Enter the activity into the "Activity or Task" column for the corresponding time and day of the week.
2. If you did more than one activity in a 15-minute timeframe, record the activity where you spent the majority of time.
3. In the columns next to each activity, place an X under the category that aligns with your activity. Do not mark more than one category.
4. Do not use any other mark in the columns! You must record an X.
5. The spreadsheet will count your activities each day and calculate percent of time in each category.
6. The spreadsheet will also calculate your percent of time for the week and will report that data in the "Charts" tab.
7. The "Sample" tab displays how one day will look after entering activities and Xs to designate category.
8. Because there are formulas in the spreadsheets, do not alter any part of the Use-of-Time Calculator in any way.

Classroom and Group Mindsets & Behaviors Action Plan

The ASCA Mindsets & Behaviors guide the planning and delivery of all student activities and interventions. The purpose of the classroom and group Mindsets & Behaviors action plan is to provide an overview of the delivery of direct services in large group (LG), classroom (Class) and small group (SG) settings.
