

All Kansas students are engaged in quality career pathways to prepare them for a lifetime of opportunities as productive and responsible

Volume 4 April 2013 Issue

BRIGHT SPOTS

The Kansas State Department of Education Career Technical Education (CTE) team recently recognized the Youth Entrepreneurs (YE) organization, based in Wichita, KS, as exemplary Kansas CTE partners. This quarterly recognition highlights successful CTE programs that prepare students to succeed in further education and careers through alignment with workforce and postsecondary requirements and providing opportunities to work collaboratively with local businesses and communities.

Youth Entrepreneurs, led by Kylie Stupka, is a nonprofit 501c(3) organization that teaches business and entrepreneurial education in 30 high schools across Kansas and Missouri. They were selected for recognition by KSDE because their tireless commitment to teaching entrepreneurship as a means to better prepare Kansas students for success in business and other future career and education endeavors.

"From industry field-trips to business plan competitions, YE delivers real-world professional learning experiences in the classroom," said Kirk Haskins, KSDE education program consultant for business. "In addition, they believe in delivering modern professional development opportunities for its teachers, and are dedicated in making sure that Kansas students receive the very best classroom curriculum and pedagogy. Kylie and staff have been instrumental in assisting KSDE-CTE in developing course competencies and indicators for several Kansas business courses. YE is indeed an exemplary CTE partner."

BRIGHT SPOTS

The Kansas State Department of Education Career Technical Education (CTE) team recently recognized the Youth Entrepreneurs (YE) organization, based in Wichita, KS, as exemplary Kansas CTE partners. This quarterly recognition highlights successful CTE programs that prepare students to succeed in further education and careers through alignment with workforce and postsecondary requirements and providing opportunities to work collaboratively with local businesses and communities.

Youth Entrepreneurs, led by Kylie Stupka, is a nonprofit 501c(3) organization that teaches business and entrepreneurial education in 30 high schools across Kansas and Missouri. They were selected for recognition by KSDE because their tireless commitment to teaching entrepreneurship as a means to better prepare Kansas students for success in business and other future career and education endeavors.

"From industry field-trips to business plan competitions, YE delivers real-world professional learning experiences in the classroom," said Kirk Haskins, KSDE education program consultant for business. "In addition, they believe in delivering modern professional development opportunities for its teachers, and are dedicated in making sure that Kansas students receive the very best classroom curriculum and pedagogy. Kylie and staff have been instrumental in assisting KSDE-CTE in developing course competencies and indicators for several Kansas business courses. YE is indeed an exemplary CTE partner."

BRIGHT SPOTS

The Kansas State Department of Education Career Technical Education (CTE) team recently recognized the Youth Entrepreneurs (YE) organization, based in Wichita, KS, as exemplary Kansas CTE partners. This quarterly recognition highlights successful CTE programs that prepare students to succeed in further education and careers through alignment with workforce and postsecondary requirements and providing opportunities to work collaboratively with local businesses and communities.

Youth Entrepreneurs, led by Kylie Stupka, is a nonprofit 501c(3) organization that teaches business and entrepreneurial education in 30 high schools across Kansas and Missouri. They were selected for recognition by KSDE because their tireless commitment to teaching entrepreneurship as a means to better prepare Kansas students for success in business and other future career and education endeavors.

"From industry field-trips to business plan competitions, YE delivers real-world professional learning experiences in the classroom," said Kirk Haskins, KSDE education program consultant for business. "In addition, they believe in delivering modern professional development opportunities for its teachers, and are dedicated in making sure that Kansas students receive the very best classroom curriculum and pedagogy. Kylie and staff have been instrumental in assisting KSDE-CTE in developing course competencies and indicators for several Kansas business courses. YE is indeed an exemplary CTE partner."
