Application for Summer Services for Migrant Students

To assist local school districts serving migrant students, the Kansas State Department of Education has funds for Specialized Summer Services for Migrant Students in four designated areas.

Reading Instruction
Mathematics Instruction
Pre-K Jump Start
Secondary Credit Accrual

These services must be provided during the summer of 2016 and delivered with enough intensity to improve academic achievement, prepare preschool migrant students for success in kindergarten, and/or assist secondary migrant students in credit accrual. Districts must serve students identified Priority for Service first and document those services.

READING and/or MATHEMATICS INSTRUCTION

Based on the Kansas State Reading and Mathematics Assessments, migrant students consistently average below their peers. Helping migrant students become proficient in reading and math are two of the primary areas of focus of the summer services for migrant students. Summer reading and/or mathematics instruction must be aligned with State Standards and reinforce, review, and/or introduce key concepts to students. In response to this initiative, summer services instruction in reading and/or mathematics must:

1. Assess the needs of the migrant students in the area of reading and/or mathematics
2. Implement research-based, data-driven strategies to improve the reading and/or mathematics achievement of migrant students.
3. Increase reading and/or mathematics achievement for migrant students by providing additional instruction in reading and/or mathematics.

PRE-K JUMP START

Literacy is the ability to read and write; emergent literacy is the early stage during which the abilities to interpret and generate print are still developing. Instruction to migrant preschool children (ages 4-5) must promote language development, fine and gross motor development, social skills, reasoning and problem solving, and reading readiness. In response to this initiative, the summer services pre-k jump start must:

1. Assess the needs of the migrant students in the area of school readiness
2. Implement research-based, data-driven strategies to improve the readiness of migrant students.
3. Increase school readiness for migrant students by providing comprehensive pre-school instruction.

SECONDARY CREDIT ACCRUAL

The goal of this area is to assist migrant students at the secondary level who are at risk of dropping out to remain in and graduate from school. Therefore, summer services for migrant students must:

1. Assess the needs of the individual migrant students at the secondary level.
2. Implement research-based, data-driven strategies that lead to credit accrual for migrant students to attain a high school diploma.
3. Increase the migrant student graduation rate by providing additional course opportunities, options, and credit accrual
