Curriculum Evaluation for Virtual Schools

Curricular Evaluation Process

If you are considering opening a new virtual school, part of the process is engaging with curriculum to find a best fit for your district and stakeholders. KSDE would expect this to be a similar process to that of a brick and mortar building with the same time and resources put into virtual curriculum as you work for any textbook adoption/curriculum adoption.

Additionally, any curriculum adopted should reflect national, state and local standards as well as district and building level initiatives, such as social emotional learning or individual plans of study.

Evaluation Process

Please explain your curriculum evaluation process here. If you have rubrics that you used during the process, a sample rubric could be attached, but should be specific to the grade level or content area..

Signatures Required

Please have each teacher that participated in the evaluation process sign below with their name and grade level/content area discipline.
