September 2021

Dear Kansas Educator:

The Kansas State Department of Education is accepting nominations for the 2023 Kansas Teacher of the Year. I encourage every school district to recognize your exemplary teachers by nominating one elementary classroom teacher and one secondary classroom teacher for this prestigious award.

Recognized as one of the premier state teacher of the year programs in the nation, the Kansas program identifies, recognizes and utilizes representatives of excellent teaching in the state's elementary and secondary classrooms. Its mission is to build and utilize a network of exemplary teachers who are leaders in the improvement of schools, student performance and the teaching profession.

Participation in this program benefits not only the teachers, but their students, schools, districts and communities. Teachers nominated for this award have the opportunity to:

- Network with other outstanding educators.
- Serve as advocates for students, teachers and education.
- Work with state policymakers, business and community leaders and others who help shape public opinion to promote accurate perceptions of the realities of today's classrooms.
- Share their expertise with preservice teachers and other educators.
- Participate in professional development activities designed to provide them with needed tools to become more effective leaders.

Please give this nomination package to your district's nominees as soon as possible so they have adequate time to complete the nomination. Administrators can demonstrate their support by providing some time, perhaps one or two days, for their nominees to work on their nomination. All nominations for 2023 Kansas Teacher of the Year will be submitted using an online application program available beginning September 20, 2021, and closing November 2, 2021.

For more information about this program, please contact the Kansas State Department of Education at (785) 296-4950.

Sincerely,

KANSAS TEACHER OF THE YEAR PROGRAM 2023 NOMINATION

Six Practical Reasons to Nominate a Teacher of the Year

The time is now to nominate candidates for Kansas Teacher of the Year. While the focus of the program is squarely — and rightly — on teachers, the benefits of each nomination extend far beyond to encompass professional and public communities statewide. Time and effort invested in the nomination process is an investment that will continue to pay dividends for years to come.

Each nomination ...

1. is good for the teacher. Recognition has the immediate benefits of boosting the teacher's morale and cementing the already solid perceptions of students, parents and colleagues. Everyone's expectations rise, and outstanding teachers are encouraged to soar to even greater heights. Over the long run, the Kansas Teacher of the Year program opens doors to countless professional opportunities, such as service on state advisory groups, participation in college/university teacher preparation programs and professional organization activities. Recognition expands the sphere of influence of teachers whose influence is needed. It helps leaders lead.
2. is good for the students. Few things can compare to the pride and joy students feel when their teacher, or a teacher they know, is publicly recognized as a Teacher of the Year at the school or district level. Regional or state recognition compounds the effect. Students feel special by association with a special teacher, and they naturally tend to study harder and learn better.
3. is good for the school and its faculty. Nominating a Teacher of the Year raises the credibility of any school and its staff in the eyes of the local community. Even the most negative critic will refrain from degrading such recognition and will acknowledge, along with others, that the school is doing something right. The prestige of a Teacher of the Year award rubs off on the institution and on everyone who is a part of it: it breeds success by association.
4. is good for the school district, its leaders and its patrons. The same positive effects that accrue to a school accrue districtwide. Enhanced community prestige and community pride are, in every sense of the word, priceless and directly contribute to improved expectations, support for schools and student learning.
5. is good for the profession. In recent years, "teacher-bashing" has entered the language as a crude sort of sport. However, several major independent studies have confirmed that the facts point to the consistent success of teachers and schools, and that student achievement has been rising slowly but steadily for two decades in spite of massive social problems and declining resources. Teacher of the Year nominees are among the very best advertisements the profession can put forth as evidence of our impressive success: Each Teacher of the Year nominee represents hundreds of other skillful and knowledgeable educators who have been making it happen. One nationwide business foundation uses the slogan, "The future is in the hands of the educated." A corollary is that the future is in the hands of the educators. Teacher of the Year nominees help make certain that message is received loud and clear, along with the conviction that the future is in good hands.

6. is good for society. A healthy society respects and values learning and rewards those who love it and who labor to pass it on to the citizens of tomorrow. A Teacher of the Year nomination provides society the opportunity to recognize a representative of the formal learning community and to engage in the public celebrations which reconfirm society's respect and debt to teachers past, teachers present and teachers yet-to-come.

The Kansas Teacher of the Year program goes beyond identifying and recognizing exemplary classroom teachers. It utilizes these teachers as leaders in the improvement of schools, student performance and the teaching profession.

Ultimately, nominees help to foster school improvement initiatives in Kansas by:

- Serving as advocates for students.
- Working with state policymakers, business and community leaders and others who shape public opinion to promote accurate perceptions of the realities of today's classrooms.
- Using their voices to help shape education policy at the local and state levels.
- Serving on state advisory and selection committees, as conference and workshop presenters and as consultants.
- Participating in professional development activities designed to provide exemplary educators with needed tools to become more effective leaders.

These days, the time demands on school personnel are enormous, and we all struggle to make every minute matter and to get the greatest returns for our time and talents. A Teacher of the Year nomination takes more than just a few minutes; but, the benefits — immediate and eventual, in the classroom and beyond the school, foreseen and unforeseen — are so great that few ways of investing our time are likely to be more productive.

Make it happen: Nominate a Teacher of the Year.

KANSAS TEACHER OF THE YEAR PROGRAM 2023 NOMINATION

Kansas Teacher of the Year Program

Mission

The Kansas Teacher of the Year program, sponsored by the Kansas State Department of Education, identifies, recognizes and utilizes representatives of excellent teaching in the elementary and secondary classrooms of the state.

The mission of the Kansas Teacher of the Year program is ... to build and utilize a network of exemplary teachers who are leaders in the improvement of schools, student performance and the teaching profession.

The Kansas Teacher of the Year and state finalists serve as ambassadors for education in Kansas, making public appearances across the state.

The Kansas Teacher of the Year is nominated to represent Kansas in the National Teacher of the Year program. The National Teacher of the Year program, a project of the Council of Chief State School Officers, is presented by Voya Financial.

Nominations

Each school district may nominate one elementary classroom teacher and one secondary classroom teacher for Kansas Teacher of the Year.

Principals and superintendents do not submit a nomination entry form identifying their candidate(s), but are required to approve and sign the online application after it has been completed by their candidate(s).

All teachers should have an equal opportunity to be nominated for and selected as the district nominee. The local nomination and selection process should not be biased nor give the appearance of bias.

The local selection committee should be comprised of individuals representing all publics with an interest in education.

School principals and superintendents are encouraged to plan recognition ceremonies honoring their exemplary teachers.

Nominations should be made without regard to age, sex, race or religion.

Candidates will complete their nominations using an online application program. The nomination questions are detailed in this packet of information so that candidates can begin work on them immediately. The online application program will open September 20, 2021, and close November 2, 2021.

General Qualifications and Responsibilities

The nominee must be a full-time classroom teacher in any state-approved or accredited school, prekindergarten through grade 12, who is planning to continue in an active teaching status. A nominee who does not continue as a full-time classroom teacher for the 2022-2023 school year is not eligible for the 2023 Kansas Teacher of the Year or any awards associated with the program.

For the purpose of this program, a classroom teacher is defined as — a teacher who has and is responsible for a group(s) of students. The teacher's current responsibilities should include:

- assessment of students, including the assignment of grades on a report card;
- preparation of lesson plans;
- parent-teacher conferences;
- discipline; and
- day-to-day functioning of class(es), including duties such as attendance, lunch count, lunch and recess duty, etc.

By the end of the current school year, the teacher must have completed a minimum of five years as a classroom teacher.

The nominee has the respect and admiration of students, parents and colleagues.

The nominee:

- Is an expert in his/her field who guides students of all backgrounds and abilities to achieve excellence.
- Collaborates with colleagues, students and families to create a school culture of respect and success.
- Deliberately connects the classroom and key stakeholders to foster a strong community at large.

- Demonstrates leadership and innovation in and outside of the classroom walls that embodies lifelong learning.
- Expresses himself/herself in an engaging and articulate way.

The nominee must be committed to serving as a leader in efforts to improve schools, student performance and the teaching profession in Kansas. Every teacher nominated for Kansas Teacher of the Year will have the opportunity to become an active member of the Kansas Exemplary Educators Network (KEEN).

Opportunities include:

- Serving as an advocate for students.
- Working with state policymakers, business and community leaders and others who shape public opinion to promote accurate perceptions of the realities of today's classrooms.
- Using the teacher voice to help shape education policy at the local and state levels.

Senator Nancy Kassebaum-Baker, established a permanent endowment for the Kansas Teacher of the Year program. When fully endowed, the earnings will fund a one-semester ambassadorship for the Kansas Teacher of the Year.

In the meantime, the Kansas Foundation for Excellence in Education will work cooperatively with the Kansas Teacher of the Year's school district to fund a one-semester ambassadorship to be awarded to the Kansas Teacher of the Year.
