Kansas Definition of Bullying

"Bullying" means:

(A) Any intentional gesture or any intentional written, verbal, electronic or physical act or threat either by any student, staff member or parent towards a student or by any student, staff member or parent towards a staff member that is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that such gesture, act or threat creates an intimidating, threatening or abusive educational environment that a reasonable person, under the circumstances, knows or should know will have the effect of:

- Harming a student or staff member, whether physically or mentally;
- Damaging a student's or staff member's property;
- Placing a student or staff member in reasonable fear of harm to the student or staff member; or
- Placing a student or staff member in reasonable fear of damage to the student's or staff member's property;

(B) Cyberbullying; or

(C) Any other form of intimidation or harassment prohibited by the board of education of the school district in policies concerning bullying adopted pursuant to this section or subsection (e) of K.S.A. 72-8205, and amendments thereto.

"Cyberbullying" means bullying by use of any electronic communication device through means including, but not limited to, e-mail, instant messaging, text messages, blogs, mobile phones, pagers, online games and websites.
Current Statutory Requirements

• The board of education of each school district shall adopt a policy to prohibit bullying either by any student, staff member or parent towards a student or by a student, staff member or parent towards a staff member on or while utilizing school property, in a school vehicle or at a school-sponsored activity or event.

• The board of education of each school district shall adopt and implement a plan to address bullying either by any student, staff member or parent towards a student or by a student, staff member or parent towards a staff member on school property, in a school vehicle or at a school-sponsored activity or event. Such plan shall include provisions for the training and education for staff members and students.

• The board of education of each school district may adopt additional policies relating to bullying pursuant to subsection (e) of K.S.A. 72-8205, and amendments thereto.
Recommendation - 1

• Better Support and Direction for School Districts

  • Establish/appoint a statewide unit to offer guidance and support

  • This unit should compile a “bank” of evidenced-based promising practices

  • Continue state efforts like Bullying Awareness week
Recommendation - 2

• Continue and develop the state’s focus on Social-Emotional and Character Development (SECD) education to address school bullying

  • Better communicate and share SEL-related supports available to schools

  • Oversight unit (see rec. #1) should be charged with providing information and direction in devising curricula to address bullying problems

  • School boards should consider the Kansas SECD and School Counselor standards in developing their legally mandated bullying plans
Recommendation - 3

• Examine current state law and consider appropriate guidance

  • Current KS law on bullying (KS statute 72-6147) is broad and somewhat inconsistent with research that identifies bullying as repetitive over time and involving a power imbalance

  • The State Board should examine current law and provide appropriate guidance
Recommendation - 4

- Local policies and plans must focus on relationships, school climate and culture, and the mental health impact of bullying in schools
  - Plans must address differing needs of students/staff, including, but not limited to: biological sex, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, race/ethnicity, disability, religion, and Socio-Economic Status (SES)
  - The whole school community (families, school personnel, students, etc.) need to be involved in policies and plans
  - Simple, effective and trusted means for reporting bullying are needed
  - Means for listening to students and families, and addressing their concerns, are part of a strong culture and climate and should be promoted. Behavioral interventions need time to work and should be monitored for effectiveness
  - Training for resiliency should be included in professional development
  - Consider the use of restorative approaches that avoid re-victimization (zero tolerance doesn’t work)
  - Mental health support for schools should be available
  - Any plans should address perpetrators, victims and bystanders
  - Address large caseloads of school counselors, social workers & school psychologists (nurses)
  - Tie bullying prevention efforts in with other reforms and mandates

Kansas leads the world in the success of each student.
Recommendation - 5

• The state needs better data on school bullying and measures of assessing effectiveness
  • Encourage district participation in the KCTC survey
  • Areas to strengthen the KCTC survey: fewer questions per administration, administer same time each year, check psychometric reliability/internal consistency, collect information on all sub-groups (see rec. #4), include the current definition of bullying on the survey
  • Oversight unit (see rec. #1) should consider identifying or creating surveys regarding teacher perceptions of bullying and info regarding school climate
  • Assure programs implemented are evidence-based
  • Oversight unit (see rec. #1) should recommend measures that districts can use to assess effectiveness of bullying plans
Recommendation - 6

• Addressing Cyberbullying
  • Districts should:
    • Provide information regarding cyberbullying definition
    • Share information on cyberbullying plans
    • Hold cyberbullying awareness activities
    • Train educators and families about problems associated with cyberbullying
    • Find social media apps and other means to report cyberbullying
    • Involve students in plans and activities
    • School boards should monitor changes in federal laws on cyberbullying
Recommendation - 7

• Training, Professional Development (PD), and Teacher Preparation
  • Schools and districts need to put aside ample time and resources to support PD
  • Specific skills are needed to address bullying. Outside school support from the community, professional programs, etc. should be expected
  • The most promising anti-bullying practices are school-wide, universal and include a parental/family component. This is the goal of SEL efforts, and promising approaches should be considered
  • Provide in-service training for teachers regarding bullying coupled with preparation for staff, families and others in the community
  • Pre-service teacher preparation must also address bullying in schools and anti-bullying approaches
  • School districts must include families in anti-bullying training efforts
