Public Comment:

Catherine Johnson – DRC – ESI amendment for appeals process

Kris Ehling – Parent requesting amendment to ESI.

Documents were handed out by each speaker and will be part of our official SEAC records.

Public comment period is officially closed.

ESI – Jana Rosborough and Laura Jurgensen

Regulations – regulate the use of seclusion and restraint in all public schools in Kansas. Passed and implemented in April 2013. We have provided technical assistance (TA) for schools on what needed to be in place to be in compliance with the regulations. A definition and timeline for implementation of the ESI regulations were provided as well as the use of prone and supine restraints in emergency situations.

Thank you to all schools and districts for working with KSDE as implementation began and then continues to be implemented.

In 2013-14 school year

Over 45 trainings were held covering Positive Behavior Intervention Supports (PBIS), de-escalation, and prevention of emergency needs.

Reporting of ESI this year

- 1,360 schools reporting data
- Schools receive letter to principal and superintendent when 1 quarter of reporting is missed.
- Letter is sent to principal, superintendent, and local board if 2nd quarter is missed.
- No school has missed a 3rd quarter of reporting. We will be doing a random sample of schools reporting no incidence of seclusion or restraint to check to see that the data submitted is accurate.
- We have just completed the first full year of implementation.

KSDE is working on a document outlining for the field our follow-up to reporting of ESI.

Lakemary and Heartspring have received individual technical assistance to be able to meet the requirements of the ESI recommendations. Both schools will be in compliance at the beginning of the new school year 2014-2015. Both schools will have KLN visits to help KSDE provide additional and specific technical assistance.

ESI regulations do not apply to the cottages of the residential facilities but only to the school settings.

Exception for Certified Law Enforcement Officers - the recommendation from SEAC 2013-2014 was given to the State Board in July. We expect the State Board to vote on this amendment at the August meeting.

A memo to the field clarifying reporting requirements will go out prior to the beginning of the school year that these regulations apply to all students in any learning environment. It will include clarification of Certified Law Enforcement information.

Extended school year – What if an incident occurs in the ESY that is not the regular school year building. Who reports? – The regular school building is responsible for reporting. (Child's home building)

Two versions of draft amendments for an appeal process for dispute resolution are being presented today.

A comparison document showing how the Disability Rights Center (DRC) draft and the KSDE staff draft differ.

The main difference between the two drafts occurs in the Appeal wording. The KSDE version looked specifically at what the State Board and/or the KSDE has authority to do.

The other differences occur in the possible punitive actions (sanctions).

Some of the items listed as sanctions in the DRC draft are possibly outside the jurisdiction of the State Board or KSDE.

We are providing you two versions for discussion your discussion. The state board is looking for a recommendation from the SEAC. A presentation will be made in August to the State Board around the ESI regulations and the ongoing work. The state board is looking for the recommendation for amendment to be brought to them soon.

Questions –

- Define parent when the parent is not available for any reason. Is there an accepted definition of Parent included in the regulation? Would an education advocate be a reasonable replacement? Parent was not defined in the ESI regulations. This could be a topic for further discussion.
- At the state level we have received only one complaint and have been able to handle it informally.
- KSDE has requested DRC to send calls they receive about local issues with parents to us at KSDE.
- What is our timeline for preparing a proposal to move forward to the State Board? With our current meeting schedule for the year if we do not send a recommendation from this meeting, it would not be able to be presented until the October meeting of the State Board.
- Don't want to rush into making any recommendation and want to be very thoughtful in our process.
- Families together calls have been the majority about receiving information on the ESI regulations not about expressing concerns or complaints.

Motion:

Deb Howser moves to hold a conference call/meeting in August for the purpose of discussing and possibly making a recommendation on the ESI amendment for an appeals process and definition of “parent” prior to our next regularly scheduled meeting.

The motion was seconded by Matt Ramsey.

Motion carried.

Colleen will work with SEAC Chair Joan Robbins to set up a meeting/conference call in August.

- Presentation was shared with the State Board earlier this week.

Kansas State Board of Education ESI Regulations

Examples of what could be added:

- Independent (3rd party) process developed by local board
- Use of hearing officers, by KSDE but paid for by the district

SEAC members discussed avenues for assisting parents.

Families Together data on ESI calls

- August and September data shows
 - 12 calls, 10 different families

Judy Martin made a motion that SEAC recommend moving forward with an appeal process for ESI.

Mike Martin seconded the motion.

Motion carried: Vote: 8 Yes, 6 No

Elements SEAC would like to have considered in an appeal process:

Standing - Who can bring an appeal?

1. Parent/Legal guardian (define parent)
2. Adult student >18
3. Appointed education advocate
4. Original complainant only

KSA 71-962M will be inserted into the regulations (from the process handbook p 3)

Basis for an appeal?

1. The local district does not have a policy.
2. The local district has a policy, but they did not follow it. The local district has a policy, and they are following their policy but that policy doesn't comply with the regulation.
3. Policy is adversely impacting the student involved

Potential outcome of appeal:

- Directive for corrective action Shall comply with KSDE technical assistance
- Documentation of changed policy within certain number of days
- Any decision made by KSDE hearing officer shall be published and distributed to each district
- Return issue to the local board

This will not take away any other remedies available under other regulations.

Matt Ramsey moves that in conjunction with our recommendation to move forward with an appeal process general counsel include these guidelines in the development of the regulation.

Marvin Miller seconded the motion.

Motion passed – all in favor.

January 13 and 14, 2015 schedule for meeting

January 13 will be a regular meeting of SEAC. SEAC members will attend the State Board in the afternoon to make introductions. We will start with our chair Joan Robbins and end with our past chair, Bryan Wilson, who will share the SEAC Annual Report.

January 14 will begin with Breakfast at 7:30 am with the State Board and KSDE Leadership. Invitations are included in your packet. This is an opportunity for the board to get to know you and who you represent. Board members will also have topics they will want to ask you about.

Board members will receive invitations with their materials for the December meeting. There will be one new board member in January, Jim Porter. Our new commissioner, Dr. Randy Watson will also be invited.

Following the board breakfast we will continue our SEAC meeting and adjourn at noon.

This opportunity to share with Board members is really important. This board really wants to hear from you. They understand the thoughtful process that SEAC uses to address current.

Emergency Safety Interventions (ESI) Presentation – Jana Rosborough and Laura Jurgensen

Appeals process update.

Following the September SEAC meeting and your vote to recommend development of an ESI amendment for an appeals process along with the addition of a definition of parent, Scott Gordon, KSDE General Counsel, presented regulatory language to the State Board at the October meeting. It returned to the board at the November meeting for further discussion. The board is asking some really good questions about the process. It is scheduled to be an action item during the December State Board meeting.

The next step will be letting you know the action of the board and asking you as SEAC if you have any additional requests regarding the appeals process or parent definitions.

- TASN website has all information on ESI and it applies to all students.
- The KAN-DIS webpage, where ESI reporting is done, includes a sample form for schools use. It can be found at: <http://www.ksde.org/Default.aspx?tabid=824>
- Parent training on ESI includes definitions of the words emergency, safety, and interventions. It really helps parents understand.

Training Opportunities – Laura

- KSDE looked at buildings where the data was two standard deviations about the norm. 25% of those will receive an onsite visit.
- An ESI checklist was developed on request of the State Board. It was developed by taking all of the standards contained and breaking it down into 25 steps. It is sent to the principal who leads the compiling of information for the school. Most of the schools we have checked have completed the checklist and are following the regulations. This tool is emailed to the districts/schools that are targeted for technical assistance. Checklist is also available on the TASN website. ESI Targeted Technical Assistance Process Document
- Service providers are just starting these reviews but so far the indications are that if used, seclusion and restraint are being used with students according to regulations.
- TASN behavior workgroup meets again next month to discuss what the training needs look like and how it needs to be adjusted.
- We are also checking some schools who reported no incidents of ESI.
- If a building is identified a second time by their data an onsite visit will not be conducted again. A phone call to see if there is anything the school would like in the way of supports will be made.
- School websites are also being checked to see that a policy is in place on ESI and that parents can easily find it.
- KSDE's ESI group meets monthly to see what issues have been brought up and need to be resolved or clarified.

KSDE Updates – Colleen Riley

Kansas SPP Targets – PowerPoint and Handout
RDA – Results Driven Accountability

SPP – State Performance Plan 2013-2018

HB 2170 Seclusion and Restraint - Discussion

Joan Robbins provided a background of SEAC's involvement in ESI. These regulations have a broad impact on the work in schools with reporting, parent notification, etc.

The Kansas House has proposed a new bill, HB 2170 this year on seclusion and restraint.

Laura Jurgensen shared the key differences between the current regulations and the proposed bill in the legislature. (Handout)

Questions/Comments:

Bill does include opportunity for sanctions though they are unclear what those would be.

Recent letter from State Board Chair, Jim McNiece, has gone unrecognized by the co-chairs.

Emails and calls to local legislators could be very effective.

What is the correct course of action for the SEAC chair?

Should SEAC be in favor, opposed, or neutral?

- Opposed, based on less protection for students with disabilities.
- Opposed, but thank committee for their concerns. Current regulations are stronger than the HB proposed.
- Opposed, language of the bill moves us backward not forward.
- Opposed, regulations already in place that provide more protection for all students.
- Opposed, separate guidelines for student groups is unfair (discriminatory).

Motion:

Kathy Kersenbrock-Ostmeyer moves to give Joan Robbins authority to provide oral and/or written testimony to oppose HB 2170 on behalf of SEAC.

Judy Martin seconded the motion.

Discussion:

Roll Call Vote was taken.

Motion passed.

Joan thanked everyone for their participation today.

SEAC members may write letters personally indicating our position on SEAC in opposition. Parents speaking in support of our work would be a wonderful addition.

What are the next steps?

KSDE will follow up after the hearing on Thursday providing the council with anything that comes about as a result of the testimony.

Written testimony to the house committee will be sent from chair, Joan Robbins.

Motion to adjourn

Marvin Miller moved to adjourn the meeting and Brian Wilson seconded.

Motion passed.

Substitute HB 2170 Seclusion and Restraint - Discussion

Substitute HB 2170 has passed out of committee, passed the House, and sent to the Senate.

Key differences of the substitute bill were outlined by Laura Jurgensen. She also outlined how the regulations and law would function if the law were to pass. (Handout)

Substitute HB 2170 has been referred to the Senate Education Committee.

Where do we stand on communicating with the Senate about this bill?

- State Board will be updated on March 10. The State Board has been informed of your Feb. call and March call and they want to hear what SEAC has to say regarding this topic.
- Comment could also be made to the Senate Ed committee when they hold hearings.
- SEAC can always submit letters to the Senate Ed committee. Information needs to be sent to more members and not just to the committee chair.
- SEAC members and superintendents may contact SB members and legislators in writing or in public comment sessions.
- Make certain regulations and/or a side by side to the SB and the Senate Ed Committee so an understanding of the current work is made known.
- Group of SEAC members appear and explain to the State Board our position and follow-up with our state legislators as follow-up.
- Oppose substitute bill while supporting the forward motion of the regulations.
- Judy Martin, Joan Robbins, Kathy K-O will be present at the March SB meeting. Provide physical proof of what is being currently required of districts as a result of ESI regulations. Outline progression of ESI regulations development. Include discussion of the Targeted Technical Assistance that has been a result of ESI implementation.
- Speak to SB on March 10 during public comment. Convene as SEAC meeting following public comment period. Call in will be provided for those who cannot be present.
- The State Board will be discussing ESI at 2:40pm. Members could attend and listen to this discussion.

Kansas SPP/APR Indicator 17 Baseline and Targets

Kerry Haag and Kevin Davis (handout not for distribution, discussion tool only)

- Update on information presented at the January SEAC meeting. KSDE has been able to do additional review of data and look at other states information on Indicator 17 and look at NAEP data.
- We have used data to set realistic targets for our students.
- This indicator is a state level reporting only.

- 67% of Kansas districts are using an MTSS delivery system. Continue doing the work we have in progress. Data driven decision making is a critical piece to move forward.
- Data will be reviewed and targets may be adjusted annually based on incoming data.
- SEAC members we will be provided a full page color graphic at the April meeting.
- System is being built using implementation science model factors.

Please ensure that our deaf/hard of hearing students are being represented and planned for in MTSS. They are a special student population and the same interventions will not work for them. Promote training that can be provided by KSD.

Motion:

Marvin Miller moved that SEAC approve the baseline and targets as presented. Motion was seconded by Vicki Smith.

Increase Student Independence – Joan Robbins

PowerPoint and handout

- Project modeled after work being done in Olathe.
- District worked with Michael Giangreco.
- Project is working toward students being more independent, requiring less prompts from teachers or para's.
- Concern was expressed about how to write IEP's with fading para supports as a goal for students. This may be a future request from TASN.
- Video Links from Think College: <http://www.thinkcollege.net/training/rethinking-college-the-film>
- Time management skills and homework are two things we our schools can be doing to help intellectually challenged students prepare for college.
- Communicating with parents about student independence is key to success for this goal.
- Listing of post-secondary schools that provide adaptive services?
www.thinkcollege.com has information.
- Article provided – “Be careful of what you wish for...”
- Joan will share the citation list of resources.
- This message needs to be shared with KASEA region directors.
- Training is a key factor for special education teachers, para's, and general education teachers as well.
- Define the work of the para for each student. How are they to support the student?
- Co-teaching model is an approach that supports this work. Rich Villa partnership with district and school leadership is expanding and supporting systemic change. The key is including general education administrators.
- KASEA has a committee of directors working with KSDE to look at staffing and costs. Using district data about what is happening across Kansas. Looking forward to seeing this data to start making decisions about what direction we can move.
- Students need to be included in these conversations as well to share what they see as their needs. Student advocacy needs to be included in their education.

Presentation of Service Awards

Terry Collins – Legislative Rep for KASEA. Award was presented for distinguished service and leadership to Kansas Special Education and our students.

Deb Young - Award was presented for distinguished service and leadership to Kansas Special Education and our students.

Legislative Update Terry Collins and Julie Ehler

- ESI conversations with the legislature.
Joan has been very helpful with providing testimony to the legislature. We were able to have some conversations with Senator Abrams. Special meeting was held at KASB. Regulations should stay under the jurisdiction of the State Board. Need to continue to work with him and thank him for the support. We are hopeful that after the conference committee meetings will come to agreement and accept the substitute HB 2170. Training has been a key issue in the resolving of differences between the sides. Task force will be formed by January of 2016 if this measure passes.

Marvin Miller and Joan Robbins have volunteered to be assigned to the Task Force to represent SEAC.

Motion:

Mike Martin made a motion that Joan and Marvin represent SEAC on the Task Force if it is formed. Vicki Smith Seconded.

Motion Passed.

Legislative Updates Continued:

- Kathy and Marvin went to a session at CEC that focused on ESI. One concern at the national level is that ESI is focusing on students with disabilities and not all students. Many states do not have anything in place yet. Misperception still exists that these types of incidence are occurring daily in all schools. Kansas is far ahead of many states in being proactive.
- Encourage members to testify to the legislature when the opportunities arise. It was great to be able to share knowledge with representatives much of which was truly new to them.
- The training that has been done on ESI is the most massive since the implementation of the IEP. Every employee in the school systems has received training at some level on when to use and when not to as well as reporting requirements.
- Most schools have not had to use restraint at all and that information needs to be shared.
- Working after retirement – sunset expires this year. Won't allow retirees to draw a salary while drawing retirement.

Kansas Accreditation Update – Kelly Slaton (Teacher Licensure and Accreditation Team-KSDE)

PowerPoint and Handout

- New model will be named Kansas Education Systems Accreditation (KESA)
- How will this interplay with Innovative Districts – They will need to meet accreditation but specifics are not defined.
- AdvancEd accreditation – will it be accepted. Outside assistance from other sources is encouraged. AdvancEd (Nancy Bolz is a member) will make sure their work fits within our system so districts using their services will be accredited. Evidence is a key component in the new system for accreditation.
- Implementation is planned to being 2016-2017
- Contact Kelly at: kslaton@ksde.org

KSDE is working with the Standards Board to look at the SPED Directors license and is beginning to review the requirements of obtaining the license.

Currently, a district leadership license is required.

We have some difficulty in helping out of state meets requirements for directors' license.

How do you feel about the current requirements and what, if any, changes are needed?

Ideas shared:

- Special Education Experience

- Incorporate into district or building leadership that includes special education
- Need info on discipline regs above district leadership
- Developmental milestones of children and how trauma impacts students
- Expansion of e-mentoring grant to include director information
- Mentoring requirement for initial license

- SPED Finance
- SPED Law
- SPED issues included at both building and district level leadership programs
- District level leadership with SPED emphasis
