The School Finance team of the Kansas State Department of Education has prepared this report in order to provide data on school bond elections. The report includes information on elections held and whether the district used a mail ballot or not, as well as the dollar amount of school bonds approved. In addition, we have provided the total outstanding indebtedness for each school district. We hope this information will be helpful to school boards, school administrators, and others interested in the finances of local public school districts.

REPORT SECTIONS

Bond Election Held

If the district holds a school bond election during the reported fiscal school year, a "Yes" will appear in this column.
